Lamb Gives Up FM Permit

Drops Radio Plans

Mansfield Station 'Out'

The Federal Communications commission has vacated the permit for a new FM radio station in Mansfield which it had granted to Unity corporation, headed by Edward Lamb, Toledo attorney.

The FCC said it acted at Lamb's request in vacating the permit here and a similar one at Springfield.

For four and a half months since Lamb was granted his Mansfield permit, The News-Journal has relentlessly exposed the Toledoan's link with communist front organizations and his pro-communist writings.

The writings included a book, "The Planned Economy in Soviet Russia," in which Lamb extols the communist form of government and advocates overthrow of the present American system.

HIT IN CONGRESS

In the wake of The News-Journal exposures, Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La) ripped Lamb's acquisition from the FCC of five radio permits in three weeks with a ringing speech before the lower house of Congress. Hebert called Lamb "a man saturated and drenched in communist writings, associations, and affiliations."

Rep. Charles W. Vursell (R-Ill) joined the attack in Congress, sharply criticizing the radio grants of Lamb.

On June 3, Lamb began to wilt in the glare of publicity being given his red-tinged connections. Through his Erie, Pa., newspaper, The Dispatch, he announced sale of his Mansfield Radio company (which had no apparent connection with the city of Mansfield) to a group of Youngstown men.

The same day he revealed that he had dropped plans to construct an FM station at Springfield.

Yesterday Lamb gave up the Springfield venture entirely and retreated from his attempt to establish an FM station in Mansfield. He told the FCC he wanted to concentrate on other stations which he controls in the standard radio and television fields.

Ex-Bund Chief Caught

MUNICH —(INS)— Fritz Kuhn, heavy-jowled former leader of the German-American bund who escaped on Feb. 4 from the Dachau internment camp, is back in American hands.

He was recaptured and brought into Munich for extensive questioning on his recent activities and the means by which he got away from the former Nazi concentration camp, one of the most heavily-guarded in the world.

Kuhn escaped from the German internment camp under mysterious circumstances. The camp director, Anton Zirngibl, was dismissed as a result.

Kuhn had been awaiting trial before a German denazification court. He was convicted in absentia April 20 and sentenced to 10 years at hard labor as a "major nazi offender."

Temperature Dips to 46

June gave Mansfield a cool shoulder last night as "sweater weather" returned, forcing the mercury down to 46 at 5 a. m. today.

For most Ohio cities it was one of the coldest June nights on record. Zanesville had a low of 42 degrees and Cleveland recorded a low 45.

The weatherman had welcome news, however, with the prediction that the mercury would range between 75 and 85 degrees late today and tomorrow and that tonight's decline would not be so sharp. CAA communications office at the airport reported a high of 70 at noon.

Tomorrow will be a little warmer, but cloudy, with rain expected in late evening or Saturday morning.

Lutz Cool To City's Gambling

Theodore Lutz, Richland county prosecuting attorney, told the News-Journal today his office would take no action on the Mansfield gambling situation.

"It has never been the policy or the duty of the county prosecutor to supervise city or county law enforcement agencies in the performance of their duties," he said.

Lutz explained that when and if gambling became a matter of court action, he would do his best to do a complete and thorough job.

"I've not discussed the matter with anyone officially," he said. "My only knowledge of this is what I read in the newspaper. As I said before, it is not the duty of my office to make such investigations."

RECALLS JURY ACTION

The prosecutor admitted that in 1946 he took an active interest in Mansfield gambling. But, he explained, "that was the result of questions directed at me by two grand juries."

Lutz was referring to the hiring of a private detective agency to investigate gambling and furnish information which had been requested by the two inquiring grand juries.

When a News-Journal reporter asked the prosecutor if owners of property used for gambling purposes were subject to prosecution, he replied, "Yes, the Ohio code states plainly that if a person knowingly rents property for such purposes he is subject to arrest.

"But," he cautioned, "you have to prove first of all that the owner knew for what purposes the property was being used."

GOP Faces Race Issue

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The race issue broke in the Republican platform committee today as a delegate from Texas protested that no southerner had been assigned to the subcommittee that will write the GOP plank on civil rights.

Orville Bullington, of Wichita Falls, Tex., arose in the committee session to tell Chairman Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. that "the south is more interested in this question than anything else." He demanded that a southern delegate be put on the civil rights committee.

Lodge, a Massachusetts senator, told the 104-member platform group that it was in order for members to swap their committee assignments if they desire.

Mrs. Agnes Jones Gifford, South Orange, N. J., immediately announced that she would yield her civil rights committee post to Bullington. The Texan then was assigned to this committee and Mrs. Gifford took his place on the subcommittee dealing with economics and small business.

This dramatic development occurred shortly after the platform committee had organized, electing Lodge as its chairman and designating nine subcommittees to conduct hearings on party platform planks.

Farm Produce Prices Drop

CINCINNATI — (INS) — Retail prices of fresh fruits and vegetables in Cincinnati were down today and still dropping.

W. H. Mosier, federal food reporter for the U. S. Department of Agriculture said the nose-dive was caused by the arrival of 290 carloads of produce Monday — about 100 more than the average.

Harold M. Buzek of the National Association of Fresh Fruit and Vegetable dealers said the low prices probably will last at least 10 days.

Cleveland Clinic Co-Founder Dies

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Dr. William Edgar Lower, 81, co-founder of the Cleveland clinic, died early today at his home in suburban Cleveland Heights.

Dr. Lower, a doctor for 56 years, was an active member on the staff of both the clinic and Lutheran hospital.

Housing Bill Sent To Floor

Slum Clearance Feature Killed

WASHINGTON — (INS)— The House banking and currency committee today reversed its position and sent to the floor a long-range housing bill stripped of public housing features.

The committee's action was on a 15-11 vote. Two Republican members who previously had supported the Senate-approved Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill switched their votes and made the reversal possible.

The two were Rep. Stratton, Ill., and Rep. Hardie Scott, Pa.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), sponsored the new substitute measure, which makes no provision for either public housing or slum clearance programs.

He reported he would call the bill up either today or tomorrow under suspension of the rules of the House which would bar any amendments to the legislation. Wolcott declared:

A two-thirds majority would be required for passage.

The GOP leadership paved the way for this maneuver by obtaining a resolution giving special permission for the House to suspend the rules on any legislation for the remainder of the week.

The House rules committee approved the resolution at a hurriedly-called meeting last night. It was subject to House approval.

School Bids Top Estimate

Board Gets Offers On Newman Building

The lowest combination of bids offered today on construction of the Newman grade school building totaled $376,556.15, more than $26,000 over the revised cost estimate.

Bids were opened at noon on the new school which will be built on Central avenue near Grace street. The school is the fourth unit in the $2,000,000 school and library construction program.

Lowest general construction bid was submitted by Friebel and Hartman of Shelby at $285,288.85. Simon Small and Son, Mansfield contractors, bid $333,464 on general construction.

The over-all construction estimate has been upped 50 per cent since the bonds were approved about three years ago.

The board of education is expected to take action on the bids next Monday night, President H. W. Arlin said.

Combined heating and plumbing bids were received from the Charles Hoffman company for $71,480; the Mansfield Plumbing and Heating company, $66,948.80, and the T. O. Murphy company of Oberlin for $75,910.

Bids for the electrical work in the school included those from the Buchman Electrical company for $24,853; the Allegheny Electrical company, Pittsburgh, $34,990; the A. T. Emmett Electrical company, Port Clinton, $25,146.26; the Triple Service company of Marion, $34,500, and Richland Electrical company, $24,318.50.

R. J. Williams of Mansfield offered a bid of $16,892 for the

HIS DAD'S VOICE—Today was a big day in the life of 17-month-old Barrell Young, 263 Hammond avenue. Seated on his mother's knee, he heard his father's voice for the first time. Barrell didn't have much to say, but his mother, Mrs. Lance Young, talked for 11 minutes by telephone to his dad, a private first class serving with the field artillery in Weiden, Germany. Young told his wife he hopes to be home in December but doesn't know yet whether he will arrive in time to see his son for the first time at Christmas.

Appointee Rejects Job

City Still Seeking First Policewoman

Mansfield started today a new search for a policewoman. Miss Marilyn Craven, who was appointed as the city's first police officer last week, has decided not to accept the position.

A difference in the advertised salary for the position and the amount she discovered after her appointment would be paid caused her to change her mind.

She pointed out that the legal advertisement calling for applicants to take the civil service test for policewoman listed the salary as "First 90 days $185 per month; $230 per month thereafter."

After she had been certified as eligible for appointment, Miss Craven discovered that the starting salary would be $172.50, with $217.50 being paid after she had served three months probation.

The difference, Chairman Tom Woodard of the Mansfield Civil Service commission explained, was accounted for by a city council ordinance granting city male workers a $25 a month bonus and female workers a $12.50 a month bonus.

IDENTICAL AD

Woodard said the legal advertisement for policewoman was identical, including salary, to that used in notices for policemen. It was not until after Miss Craven had been certified that he learned of the difference, he said.

"We were under the impression that she would be a full-fledged policewoman and entitled to all the rights of a policeman," he commented.

The next step in the search for a policewoman will be to readvertise for applicants. Before that is done, however, the civil service commission will request an opinion from City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch concerning the state law which sets the age of applicants at between 21 and 29, inclusive.

Several other applicants for the post who were considered "good prospects" had to be rejected because they were not in the proper age group.

'Start Work' Date Set

Ground will be broken at 7:30 a. m., next Monday for Richland county's $800,000 tuberculosis sanatorium on State Route 39 southeast of Mansfield.

News of the ground breaking came out of a meeting of the county TB building commission at noon today when it was revealed that the federal government has approved plans for the building and an allocation of $104,000 to equip the building.

The action assures the county that it will receive in federal aid $104,566, or one-third of the cost of equipment for the new hospital.

The federal grant will supplement the $700,000 in bonds voted by the county voters.

Jones said construction probably would be completed within a year.

RECORD COOL SPELL

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A mercury reading of 45 early today equalled the record low here for June 17. The mark was set in 1917.

Oppose Tax Law Change

C. of C. Directors Take Action Here

The board of directors of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce today formally voted in favor of retaining the present tax classification law.

Meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, the directors indicated that any attempt to change the tax structure of the state in reference to classification of property will be met with aggressive resistance by Ohio business..

The first quarterly meeting of the Ohio C. of C. board of directors ever to be held outside of Columbus formally got underway at 8:30 a. m. today with a breakfast at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and Harry B. Soulen, president of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the 90 guests who attended.

SEE BUSINESS THREAT

At the business meeting that followed, the Ohio Chamber held that any change in the statute "could become dangerous, halting new industry at the state's borders and cramping expansion of established business in Ohio."

A recent Ohio Supreme court decision classified certain types of heavy manufacturing equipment as personal property and not as real estate. Hence, it would not be taxed at as high a rate as if it were classified as real estate.

Truman Hit On His 'Noes'

Third Veto Killed In Week's Time

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congress, widening its split with President Truman—today took the history-making step of overriding his third veto in a week.

A House vote of 297 to 102, or 31 more than the necessary two-thirds majority, was all that was needed to make Mr Truman the first President to have his "noes" on major legislation turned into "yeas" by Congress so often in so short a time.

Never before, a search of congressional records showed, have three big vetoes been bowled over in a single week.

Today's vote was on a bill to exempt railroads and other surface carriers from anti-trust actions for rates and fare agreements provided the agreements met interstate commerce commission approval.

The President said the bill is "inconsistent" with a "vigorous anti-monopoly program." The Senate overrode the veto yesterday by a 63 to 25 vote.

Last Monday the Senate and the House put on the law books over the President's objections a social security bill which Mr. Truman claimed would bar 750,000 persons from old age benefits.

Yesterday the two branches nullified his veto of a $975,914,700 appropriation bill which the President rejected because it transfers the United States employment service from the labor department to the federal security agency.

So far this session, the President has vetoed 29 bills and has been overridden on five of them. Since taking office, Mr. Truman has vetoed a total of 137 measures.

Woman Drops Folsom Case

CULLMAN, Ala. — (UP) — Petitions to dismiss the paternity suits against Gov. James E. Folsom were filed today in circuit court here.

Chancery Court Clerk C. H. Keller said a petition was filed by divorcee Mrs. Christine Putnam Johnston to dismiss her suit seeking to establish herself as the common law wife of Folsom. A similar petition was filed by Carter Putnam in behalf of the two-year-old boy who had sought to name Folsom as his father. Putnam is the boy's uncle.

However, Mrs. Johnston's attorney, Kingman Shelburne of Birmingham, filed objections to dismissal of the boy's case.

Chuck-Hole Ills Cured By Citizens

ALEXANDRIA, Ind.—(UP)—The streets of Alexandria were free of chuck-holes today but it took 500 volunteers a day to do the job of smoothing the pavement.

The mayor, three ministers and two bankers pitched in to help their fellow townsmen.

Aroused by the "thousands" of holes in the streets, shirt-sleeved Mayor Guy C. Lewis led a crew of men, women and children who spent yesterday pouring and smoothing asphalt.

Stassen 3rd On 1st Vote, He Concedes

Voices Confidence In Final Victory

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Harold E. Stassen conceded today he will be third man on the first presidential nominating ballot at the GOP convention opening here Monday.

But the former Minnesota governor told a news conference shortly after his arrival he remains confident he will win the nomination by the ninth ballot.

"I am here to lead the liberal and younger forces of the Republican party in a fight to win," Stassen said.

"I expect to be in third place on the first ballot and in first place on the last."

Stassen said he thinks it is "a close question" whether Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York or Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio will be in the lead on the first convention roll call.

Stassen was asked how he views the possible candidacy of Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan. Vandenberg is being boomed in certain quarters as a dark horse candidate in the event of a deadlock.

"I consider Sen. Vandenberg to be one of the outstanding statesmen of the Republican party," Stassen said.

"I make no attempt to anticipate what his moves will be in this convention."

Stassen poked at Dewey's recent invasion of Maine with the assertion that he, and not the New Yorker, will get the majority of Maine's presidential votes.

Stassen was asked if there is any truth in rumors that he might accept second place on a ticket headed by Taft. He said that since he first developed delegate strength, rumors had linked him with almost every rival in the field.

"I continue to be a candidate for the presidential nomination and will be when the roll is called at the convention," he declared.

Close associates of Senator Vandenberg said unless he changes plans, he will permit the presidential voting to take its course without any statement from him.

Woman Still Seeks Hubby, Plus $10,000

MIAMI, Fla. — (UP) — Dorothy Lawlor, the hatcheck girl looking for a husband with $10,000, got her roundtrip ticket and tourist visa to the Dominican republic Wednesday to find out what "a man with a Spanish name" in Ciudad Trumillo had to offer for her hand in marriage.

"I have a premonition this is it," Dottie said, adding that some unknown person had sent her a chain letter that is supposed to bring good luck within the next four days.

She has a reservation on a Pan American Airways plane leaving for the Caribbean island this afternoon.

Truce Wavers In Indonesia

LAKE SUCESS, N. Y. — (UP) — United Nations officials feared today that the five-months-old truce in Indonesia might break down

The speculation was prompted by news that the Dutch had walked out of negotiations for a permanent settlement with the Indonesian republic.

The U. N. Security council resumed debate on the Dutch-Indonesian problem, but did not have before it a full report of the blow-up in negotiations in Batavia.

FUMES OVERCOME 100

ROME —(AP)— A gas cylinder exploded in the building of Rome's radio station today and about 100 persons were overcome by ammonia fumes. Several persons were carried unconscious from the building by rescue crews of firemen and policemen.

Outcome Becoming Uncertain

Debate Goes Into 3rd Day

WASHINGTON — (INS)— Acting Senate Majority Leader Wherry (R-Neb) said today that draft legislation will be scrapped unless House GOP leaders quickly beat down efforts to strangle the measure.

Wherry declared flatly that Congress will adjourn Saturday night and will discard any unfinished legislation remaining at that time.

The senator's assertion came as turbulent House debate on the draft was in its third day amid announced efforts to filibuster the bill.

Rep. Marcantonio (ALP-NY), spearheading opposition in the House, predicted that Senate foes of the bill would launch a filibuster when the Senate-House conference committee report goes to the upper branch.

House GOP chieftains stopped making predictions on what might happen in the wake of a surprise 156-88 standing vote limiting compulsory military service of men aged 19 through 25 to one year. The Senate approved a two-year draft.

WILL ASK REVERSAL

Rep. Andrews (R-NY), co-sponsor of the legislation, said he would ask the House to reverse itself. He will demand a formal roll call vote on this crucial revision, which came on an amendment by Rep. Coudert (R-NY).

Republican leaders, who had once thought to complete action on the bill in one day, now are hopeful of obtaining passage by tonight. There is no certainty of this, however, for Marcantonio is determined to delay the final vote as long as possible.

The House was ordered into session again at 9 a. m. (EST) two hours earlier than usual, for the third successive day. About 20 amendments to the draft bill still remained to be disposed of, including one postponing inductions until Jan. 31, 1949.

The House adopted 145 to 38 an amendment placing in President Truman the decision to activate the draft through a proclamation issued 75 days after enactment, with inductions beginning 15 days later. The Senate rejected a similar amendment.

Atom Strike Threat Ends

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. —(UP)— Atomic workers at the national laboratories here today approved a new one-year contract with Carbide and Carbon Chemicals corporation, the operating company, by a vote of more than four to one.

Members of the AFL Atomic Trades and Labor council voted last night on the proposed contract which resulted from long negotiations directed by the federal mediation service.

Kenneth L. Scott, co-ordinator of the union, announced that the vote was 271 to 60 in favor of ratification of the contract. The contract covers some 875 workers and the light vote was said to indicate that a large majority believed the pact would be approved.

Scott said the contract expires next June and provides wage increases retroactive to last Dec. 18, ranging from six and one-half to 40 and one-half cents per hour for various types of work.

Bulletin

MT. CARMEL, Pa.—(AP)—A United Airlines plane crashed in flames near this anthracite area town today. Forty-one persons were believed killed. UAL headquarters in New York said the plane apparently was Flight 624, bound from San Diego to New York with 37 passengers and four crewmen aboard. Ed Darlington of radio station WCNR at nearby Bloomsburg said "There was no sign of life and apparently everybody was killed."

Loud Ties Favorites of Little Tykes

Dad's Due For Surprises on His Day

By EILEEN DEWHURST

Mansfield wives and children are using more ingenuity this year in picking out Father's Day gifts. When father opens his packages Sunday, he's likely to find anything from a shirt and tie to a pair of swimming trunks.

Shirts and ties still remain the best sellers, but sporting equipment, luggage, pipes, and even Bing Crosby records have been added to the list of "what to get."

Evidently Mansfield men have conservative tastes. Plain colors or stripes are the most popular choices in both shirts and ties, except when children are doing the buying.

Most children have very decided ideas about colors and patterns, it seems. The loud ties appeal to them most, and some father probably will receive the splashy purple tie covered with large orchids now displayed in one local store.

Some shoppers are making sure that father gets what he most wants by buying gift certificates. Others telephone father's favorite clerk and ask him to pick out a suitable gift.

Pajamas and robes, summer slacks, billfolds and socks all are good-selling items. But pajamas present something of a problem. When shoppers learn that they come in puzzling A, B, C, D sizes, they often decide to buy some other item.

Shoppers more often know father's size than they used to. Clerks said few of them now attempt to get the right size by describing dad as "about your build." But often, a shopper will produce a list on which has been written father's measurements.

Women usually know just what they want and exactly how much they want to pay. They look first for advertised labels.

Local stores have been busy all week selling gifts for father, but they expect the big rush to come Friday and Saturday. That is when the younger set will bring in its collection of dimes and quarters to buy that tie for "the best father in the world."

County Ranks 68th In Ohio In Accidental Deaths

Richland county ranked 68th among Ohio's 88 counties in accidental death in 1947, the Ohio State Safety Council reported today.

The county's rate of 88 deaths per 100,000 population last year gave it a much better showing than in 1946 when it ranked 84th in Ohio.

The county's 88-per-100,000 rate, however, was considerably below the state average of 72.66 last year.

Ohio's accident death rate increased one-third of one per cent in 1947, according to the Ohio Safety Council figures. In 1946 there were 72.43 accidental deaths per 100,000 population. In 1947 the rate increased to 72.66.

Holmes and Knox counties ranked 15th and 17th, respectively. Holmes had a rate of 51.4 and Knox, 52. Crawford county also ranked above Richland. Crawford ranked 63rd with a rate of 82.2.

Ashland county ranked near the bottom of the list, in 82nd place with 110.2 accidental deaths per 100,000 population. Huron county was 86th with a rate of 121.9.

Forty nine Ohio counties showed a better rate than that for the state as a whole. Forty-seven counties had improved records over the previous year, and the number of counties with death rates above 100 dropped from 19 to 13.

The Safety council suggested that part of the improvement was due to increased safety promotion in larger communities. It emphasized that greater attention to safety is needed in homes and in rural areas.

GOP Leader Expects Prompt Action

Anticipates Nomination on Fourth Day

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The Republican party should nominate its 1948 presidential candidate by Thursday night, Walter Hallanan, of West Virginia, chairman of the GOP convention arrangements committee said today.

Hallanan said the committee unanimously approved a program calling for nominations to begin Wednesday night and balloting to start Thursday morning.

"We hope to have the presidential candidate that day," Hallanan said.

The arrangements' chairman said that if the program schedule is met the vice presidential candidate would be named Friday.

Herbert Hoover, only living ex-president of the United States, will address the convention Tuesday. Clare Booth Luce will speak Monday night following the keynote speech of Gov. Dwight Green, Illinois.

Earlier, Hallanan told committee members "The myth that Republican presidential nominations are decided in a smoke filled room will be buried here next week."

Williams Guns for Elusive .400 Bat Mark

Tigers Run Victory Streak to 6 In Row

(By Associated Press)

That second .400 mark, the goal that Ted Williams has set for himself, appears to be within striking distance, now that the Splendid Splinter has finally solved two of his biggest problems.

The mighty slugger of the Boston Red Sox, currently leading all major league batsmen with a cool .408, expressed doubt early this spring that he could top .350 because of two things—the "Boudreau shift" and night baseball.

But Ted had a perfect day at bat yesterday, four for four. Two doubles and a homer went to left field. The homer cleared the left field fence for his 13th circuit blow. The fourth was a single to right.

The blows came against Boudreau's league leading Indians and helped the Red Sox defeat Cleveland and Bob Feller, 7-4.

OUTPITCHES LEFTY

The Detroit Tigers ran their winning streak to six straight games with a 2-1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in 11 innings. Young Art Houtteman, who has been losing some tough games for the Tigers, finally won a close one, outpitching Lefty Lou Brissie. The 24-year-old Philadelphia rookie had a one-hit shutout through the first eight innings.

The Yankees nipped the White Sox, 3-1, in Chicago to even the two-game series at one victory apiece. Allie Reynolds went the route for the first time since May 11. He allowed only seven hits in gaining his seventh victory.

The Pittsburgh Pirates climbed into a tie with the Boston Braves for the National league lead when they trounced the New York Giants, 11-5, while the Braves were beaten by the Cubs, 8-5, in Boston.

HOME RUNS HELP

Home runs by Johnny Hopp and Wally Westlake, and four Giants errors, helped the Pirates.

Home runs by Ed Watkins and Andy Pafko and some good relief pitching by Emil Kush enabled the Cubs to gain their first victory over the Braves in eight games this season.

Two night games were played. The Brooklyn Dodgers edged the Cincinnati Reds, 4-3, and the St. Louis Browns nosed out the Washington Senators, 6-5.

A scheduled night game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Phillies in Philadelphia was postponed because of rain.

Know Your Golf Shots

By HERMAN BARRON
AP Newsfeatures

FOR the No. 5 iron shot I still advise the square stance and the same grip on the club. The ball should be played in the dead center of your feet.

This is a little different than when you use the No. 2 or No. 3 iron where the ball is played slightly toward the left foot.

With the medium iron you stand up fairly straight and move closer to the ball. Keep the backswing slow and smoothe and hold your head down until the swing is completed.

Again the relation of your legs and feet are very important to keep your balance.

Always spread your feet about the width of your shoulders, never any more.

Still take a full swing. Let the clubhead do the rest.

TOMORROW—No. 8 Iron.

Gorman-Rupp Wins Fourth Loop Game

ASHLAND—Mansfield Gorman-Rupp took a strangle hold on first place in the North Central Ohio Inter-City softball league leadership last night by winning a surprise 4-to-2 decision over the strong Ashland Indians at Brookside park.

However, the G-R softballers had to go an extra inning to preserve the only perfect record in the fast six-team circuit. Mansfield has won four straight while Ashland, pre-season pennant favorites, now has a record of three wins and two defeats.

Bud McKee's triple with two on base in the top of the eighth clinched the victory. With one away in that frame, Pete Campbell singled and Tic Hamilton popped up. Then Manager Nick Weber hit a one-baser to set the stage for McKee's blow down the right field line.

DIVIDE DUTIES

Jim "Stretch" Regula and Bobby Regula divided the mound duties and limited the Indians to five hits while fanning eight. "Stretch" made his first league start but ran into trouble in the fifth when he loaded the sacks with one down.

Bobby rushed into the game. Jack Harris lined to Ted Bush, who tossed to Campbell for a twin killing.

Singles by Ken Windsor, Campbell and J. Regula in the third gave Mansfield its first two runs. Ashland picked up one in its half of the inning on Paul Michael's single and a triple by Harris. The home towners knotted the count in the sixth when Jacobs was safe on a bunt and Pete Risser tripled.

Marion defeated Tiffin last night, 5 to 2, to take over undisputed possession of second place, dropping Ashland to third. Marion has won four and lost two.

Legion Junior Baseball Nine Plays Marion

Manager Dewey Durant's American Legion Junior baseball team which is still trying to play its third tilt of the season, will get two chances this week end.

The Juniors will invade Marion for a game at 4 p. m. Saturday and Sunday will throw out the welcome mat for the Shelby Legion team. Game time will be 2:30 p. m. at Liberty park.

Although Durant has announced no choice, Lou Gregorio will probably hurl one of the games with Dutch Bader going in the other.

Durant's team will go to Willard for a 5 p. m. contest next Wednesday, and June 26 will start sectional tournament play. Crestline will be the locals' opposition in the first game of the double-elimination affair, which will open at Liberty park.

Mansfield, Shelby, Galion, Loudonville and Crestline are entered in the tournament with the winner becoming eligible for the district meet at Bellevue. Sectional games will be played in all five cities entered.

Now Jersey Joe Says Louis Ran

GRENLOCH, N. J. — (UP) — Jersey Joe Walcott today came up with the most sensational development in his relations with Joe Louis since the Brown Bomber was stretched out on the canvas in their Dec. 5 fight:

He accused Louis of running away from him.

"Up to now, I've let Louis do all the talking about running," Walcott said. "But there were two cases in our first fight where you'd have to call in the FBI and a bloodhound to catch him."

Ohio May Have Youngest, Oldest In '48 Olympics

By JOHN BARRINGTON

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Ohio may furnish both the youngest and oldest members of the 1948 U. S. Olympic team.

The oldest competitor would be Dave Albritton, one of Uncle Sam's high jumpers in the last Olympiad back in 1936.

The youngest might well be 17-year-old Gene Cole, the Lancaster high school phenom, who holds an unofficial national scholastic record of 48 seconds flat in the 440-yard dash.

Albritton has been high jumping, counting his earliest schoolboy efforts, since about the time Cole was born. Now well into his 30s, the tall, lithe Albritton still is going strong.

STATE CHAMP

As coach of the Dayton Dunbar high school team, he won the state scholastic class A championship last month As a competitor, he topped the field in meet after meet during last winter's indoor season and won the Ohio AAU title last week end.

Dave and Cornelius Johnson were co-holders of the world's record of six feet, 9 inches from 1936 until 1941. In the latter year, Les Steers went over the bar at 6' 11" for a new mark.

Albritton doesn't get quite that much altitude any more, but his feet still don't drag the ground, and he ought to acquire a ticket to the London games in August.

By contrast, Cole never donned a pair of spiked shoes until this spring Then his high school inaugurated track for the first time in years, and Coach Barney Francis soon found he had a prodigy on his hands.

BREEZES TO TITLES

Cole breezed to state scholastic triumphs in the 100, 220 and 440, becoming the first triple winner since Jesse Owens in 1932.

About the only better quarter-mile performances this year have been turned in by Herb McKenley, who'll represent Great Britain in the Olympics, and another schoolboy, Ollie Matson of San Francisco

A Cole-Matson duel should be something to watch, incidentally. Matson was clocked in 47 1 when he finished second to McKenley at Berkeley, Cal, recently. The mark didn't go in the books, however, since he wasn't a winner.

For that matter, Cole never has been pressed in his specialty and has given observers the impression that he could have turned on a lot more heat at the finish in both the high school meet and the state A A U event

DIDN'T COME OFF

A test many people had been looking forward to didn't materialize in the AAU last week Mal Whitefield, the Big Nine 440 champ didn't compete He attends Ohio State but also does some spare-time soldiering at nearby Lockbourne Air Base, so he competed in an eastern area air force meet last week end

The next important test for both Cole and Albritton will come two weeks hence since neither is eligible for the NCCA meet at Minneapolis this week end. Both will be on deck for the national AAU at Milwaukee, July 2 and 3.

Then, if youth and age make the grade, the next stop is the Olympic trials at Evanston, July 9 and 10.

Sugar Ray Choice To Keep Crown

CHICAGO — (U.P.) — Welterweight champion Ray "Sugar" Robinson was a 3-to-1 favorite today to retain his title in a 15-round bout tonight against Bernard Docusen, 21-year-old challenger from New Orleans.

Tonight's scrap will be Robinson's third defense of the title he won in December, 1946, after he defeated Tommy Bell. Now he has aspirations for the middleweight title held by Tony Zale and has offered Zale a $150,000 guarantee to meet him in a title match later

Auto Production Record Anticipated Next Month

By DAVID J. WILKIE
(AP Automotive Editor)

DETROIT—(AP)—Much automobile production capacity is idle this week but a new output record probably is just around the corner.

This is the conviction of many industry analysts. They see July 1 inaugurating a new high level of car and truck assemblies.

Best bet right now appears to be that 1,000,000 cars and trucks will be built between July 1 and Aug. 30.

Barring another coal mine tie-up or other development to interfere with steel supplies that production level could be maintained through September and into October.

Most industry sources seem agreed a lot of new models, originally planned for production in October will not reach the assembly lines until after the first of next year. This will help substantially in increasing the 1948 output volume.

Two weeks hence the industry will complete three years of post-war operations. In those three years it will have built close to 7,500,000 passenger cars. That just about matches normal replacement demand of the war years. It probably means that the estimated 5,500,000 backlog of unfilled orders is a conservative figure.

The actual number of unfilled orders on hand means little to the dealers; most of them are sold out for a year and more ahead, and many are refusing new orders. If they would book all the orders offered the backlog—including a lot of duplications—would come close to 7,500,000.

Senate Scuttles Bills to Clear Decks for Adjournment

President's Suggestions Disregarded

No Action Taken On Price Controls

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The Senate GOP leadership today threw overboard all major legislation except farm, housing, appropriation bills and conference agreements in clearing the decks for adjournment Saturday night.

Scuttled were the tidelands and oleo tax repeal measures, already on the calendar; the Mundt anti-communist bill, still tied up in the judiciary committee and civil rights legislation.

A Senate GOP leader said privately that the Senate will dispose only of a farm bill, the House version of housing legislation, appropriations, conference agreements "and then quit."

Ignored completely was the demand of President Truman that Congress enact price controls before it adjourns.

Senate-House conferees set a meeting for this afternoon on the foreign aid program. The Senate approved a $6,125,000,000 foreign spending fund for 12 months, restoring the bulk of two millions which had been cut by the House.

PREDICTS FILIBUSTER

Despite the prediction of Rep. Marcantonio (ALP-NY) that a Senate filibuster will develop over the draft conference compromise, Acting Majority Leader Wherry (R-Neb), said the upper chamber will meet the adjournment deadline.

Meanwhile, Sen. Wherry was pushing for speedy action on the farm bill today. Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), demands acceptance of the agriculture committee's long-range program while Sen. Russell (D-Ga), seeks to sidetrack it in favor of the House-passed stopgap measure extending existing legislation for 18 months.

The Congress which President Truman called "the second worst in history" struck back at the chief executive by overriding one veto and the Senate voting to override another. The House will act on the second veto today.

Written into law over the objection of Mr. Truman was the $975,000,000 federal security appropriation which the President turned down because it transferred the U. S. employment service from the labor department to the federal security agency.

The senate completed the first lap of overriding another veto by voting 63 to 25 to re-pass the Reed-Bulwinkle bill authorizing railroads and other common carriers to make agreements on rates and routes free of the anti-trust laws. The House prepared to act today.

Admiral Will Retire July 1

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Admiral Raymond A. Spruance, one of the last of the famous Pacific fleet commanders on active duty, will retire July 1, the Navy said today.

Spruance, who will reach the legal retirement age of 62, July 3, is now serving as president of the Naval War college at Newport, R. I. He commanded the fifth fleet in its brilliant trip-hammer strikes against the Japanese, after decisively beating the enemy carriers at the key battl of Midway.

The roll of his campaigns is like a list of navy victories in the Pacific: the Gilberts, Marshalls, Saipan, Guam, Philippines, Tinian, Iwo Jima, Okinawa.

Lodge Picnic Sunday

Members of the Yugoslav lodge, No. 12, will hold a picnic Sunday at Jim's place. Louise avenue Dinner will be served at noon The Tamburica Jovica orchestra from Akron will furnish music.

Youth, 15, Drowns

SIDNEY —(INS)— Funeral services will be held Saturday for 15-year-old George Kohnen of Minster, whose drowning occurred late yesterday near the Auglaize-Shelby county line. Kohnen was returning to Minster after attending a picnic when the bottom dropped out of the boat he was rowing.

Tax Change Opposed

the state have been disturbed by this ruling, predicting a loss in tax revenue.

The businessmen, on the other hand, allege that any losses that may occur will be small and are offset by increases in tax duplicate and tax revenues through increased industrial growth.

The state C of C. board today elected two directors to represent the radio industry. They are John P Williams, executive vice president of WING, Dayton, and Eugene Carr, president of the Canton C. of C.

The board of directors and their guests will meet tonight at the Westbrook Country club for a dinner and to hear a talk by John M. Ward, executive vice president of the Alabama Chamber of Commerce.

A second business meeting will be held tomorrow.

UMW Chief Holds Firm

WASHINGTON — (INS) — John L. Lewis declared today that the United Mine Workers will insist on their demand for putting the 1947 mine welfare fund into operation before agreeing to extend the current soft coal wage contract beyond June 30.

The UMW president made this position clear at a two-hour conference of union and industry representatives with federal mediation director Cyrus S. Ching.

Ching, who is seeking to end the 1948 contract dispute which threatens a summer strike of 400,000 miners, told newsmen after his first meeting with the parties: "The government made no proposals. We are just exploring to see if there is any basis for settlement. Nothing has crystalized yet."

Ohio's City Officials Study Proposal For Unified Action

In an effort to effect a merger, representatives of the Ohio Association of Cities and the Ohio League of Municipalities met today in Mansfield.

The eight city officials, including Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, studied the constitutions of the two bodies, seeking a formula whereby they could be consolidated.

The two groups, which work for the interests of municipal governments, have been pressing the governor to call a special session of the state legislature to provide financial relief for hard-up cities.

Mayor Charles Slusser, Akron, who presided over the joint meeting, indicated that sentiment in the two organizations favored a merger. When the new constitution is drawn up, it will be presented to the two groups for their approval.

Upon consolidation, the new organization will seek official recognition from the state. The OAC and OLM have not been officially recognized in the past because of the fact that the two groups, working toward the same end, had separate identities.

Bids Over Estimate

sewage disposal plant for Roseland school, and the Mountaineer Engineering company of Pittsburgh, Pa., asked $24,902.

Each of the heating and plumbing firms gave separate bids for heating and plumbing as well as combination bids on both. The Hoffman company offered $47,016 for heating and $24,464 for plumbing. The Mansfield Plumbing and Heating company's bid for heating alone was $33,803.62 and for plumbing, $31,783.03. T. O. Murphy gave a bid of $45,490 for heating and $34,220 for plumbing.

Although the lowest general combination of bids was $376,556.15, almost $9,000 could be saved if the bids are broken down and the lowest in heating and plumbing are considered separately and not as combined bids, according to Arlin.

Burglars Enter Two Park Spots

Burglars carried away candy, cigars and cigarets valued at $16.20 last night in two break-ins at North Lake park, police said today.

The loot was obtained from a concession stand operated by John Morrison, 251 Parkway drive. A board was pried off and the door was unlocked from the inside.

The burglars obtained nothing at the park pavilion where they pried open two cupboards in the kitchen. William Spriggins, park custodian, said entrance was gained through an unlocked window high in the building.

Birth Hailed As 'Wonder' By Doctors

AKRON—(AP)—A girl baby developed in its mother's abdomen outside the uterus was hailed as a "scientific wonder" by physicians here today

The child, weighing four pounds 13 ounces, was delivered Tuesday in Akron City hospital by means of a caesarean operation.

Physicians, who would not allow their names to be used, said the case was believed one of 60 known to medical history and the first here in which the child survived.

Both the mother, Mrs. Daniel Mirza, 38, and the child, named Margaret Alice, were reported doing well. The baby was placed in an incubator after birth.

Physicians said the placenta, through which the child was nourished prior to birth, was attached to the mother's pelvic cavity behind the uterus.

X-rays taken in the early pregnancy period, doctors said, indicated the possibility of a tumor. It was not until an incision was actually made, they said, that they were positive Mrs Mirza was pregnant.

Ohio Aged Pension Hike Anticipated

State In Line For $7,200,000 Boost

COLUMBUS —(AP)— State welfare department officials said Wednesday Ohio may get an additional $7,200,000 a year from the federal government for needy aged people.

Congress recently amended the social security law to boost federal benefits for old age pensioners.

The increased benefits would amount to around $5 a month for each of the state's 120,000 pensioners.

State legislature, however, must amend the present state law to authorize increases in maximum benefits for the aged. The maximum now is $50 a month.

Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood conferred today with Karl R. Babb, chief of the state division of aid for the aged, on the distribution of new federal funds. Sherwood said he would contact the Federal Social Security regional board in Cleveland to find out the provisions of the new law.

He said he understood it became effective Oct. 1, but he needed clarification on this and other points. He said a study also would be made to determine whether special state legislation would be needed for Ohio to take advantage of the increased benefits.

The federal government has been matching state funds on roughly a fifty-fifty basis up to $45. The state has been paying all additional amounts to a maximum of $50 a month.

Under the revised federal law, the government would increase its ceiling for matching funds to $50.

At present 35,000 pensioners in Ohio are receiving the $50 maximum. Babb said the state hoped to pass on the federal increases at least to the 85,000 pensioners not now receiving the maximum.

He urged dog owners to take greater precautions with their dogs and give them better care

Veterans Face Year's Wait For Dividends on Insurance

WASHINGTON —(UP)— The 16,000,000 World War II veterans entitled to service life insurance dividends will have to wait at least a year to collect, the Veterans administration has indicated

They may have to wait even longer, the agency said, unless Congress puts up enough money to hire additional clerks.

The last barrier to payment of the dividends was cleared away Monday when the Supreme court reversed a Chicago federal court decision The high tribunal threw out an insurance claim which, if allowed generally, would have wiped out the VA reserve fund and cost the federal government billions

The Veterans administration has asked for additional funds of $7,300,000 to handle the paper work involved in the refund payments.

If 2,700 employes are added, the VA said, it will take a full year to prepare the dividends on the 19,000,000 policies on which overpayments have been made by some 16,000,000 GIs

Although the number of policies now in effect is about 6 250,000, the VA said some veterans who dropped their insurance are entitled to refunds for the length of time they carried it

Service organizations began an immediate clamor for action by VA, Congress and the budget bureau The American Legion urged Congress to provide the requested funds at once. Amvets said the Supreme court action removed the last possible excuse for further delay

VA emphasized that veterans should not attempt to apply for refunds now. The agency said no system has been set up under which the refunds are to be paid, and no forms are ready for GI's to fill out.

VA regulations provide two ways of paying the death benefits Beneficiaries may collect a definite amount each month for 10 years, or they may elect to take a smaller amount each month and get it for life.

The Supreme court ruling was made in the case of Mrs Tillie Zazove of Chicago, as beneficiary of a $5,000 policy taken out by her son who died in a Japanese prison camp She claimed she was entitled to the larger sum, not only for 10 years but for life. The high court disagreed.

Golfer Must Pay Injured Caddy

COLUMBUS —(INS)— An award of $6,500 damages to a Cincinnati caddy struck by a golf ball was upheld yesterday by the Ohio supreme court.

It refused to review the appeal of Morton J Heldman, of Cincinnati, from the judgment in favor of then-12-year-old Teddy Gardner, who was struck by a ball driven by Heldman Sept 19, 1943, on the Losantiville Country club course.

For free entertainment to bystanders it is hard to equal the value of two cars involved in a minor accident.

How's a teen-age child to be made to understand which laws are to be enforced and which are to be laughed at?

Now somebody suggests that the next great war may be a War of Weeds. That is worth thinking about, either with or without a new lawn mower.

Mayor Is City's 'Chief Executive'

HOWEVER much he may sometimes wish to shift that responsibility, the mayor of Mansfield is the city's "chief executive" and as such is expected, among other things, to exercise control over various municipal agencies—including that of law enforcement.

It is not enough, therefore, for Mayor Roy W. Vaughn to shrug off questions on the return of commercialized gambling to Mansfield by saying: "I'm not aware the law is being broken."

If—actually—Mayor Vaughn is NOT aware that anti-gambling laws are being broken, then he is probably alone in that abysmal ignorance and ANY MEMBER OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT WOULD PROBABLY BE QUITE WILLING TO ENLIGHTEN HIM ON THE SUBJECT.

Nor is it enough for Mayor Vaughn to say: "I am going to maintain a strictly hands off policy. . . . I think Chief Schwab is doing a good job and I am not going to interfere or dictate to him. He is free to run his own department."

But, Mayor Vaughn, that is not Chief Schwab's "own department"—it is a department of the city of which you were chosen to be chief executive, and in which capacity you are now serving. State and municipal laws direct you to do certain things, and dependence on various department heads can be only to the extent to which they perform their duties faithfully and well.

Here is an instance in which Chief of Police Schwab showed—last Feb. 1—that anti-gambling laws COULD be enforced . . . by mere issuance of an order . . . but this was temporary, not "permanent," as he then announced, and frankly, Mayor Vaughn, people are wondering whether either you or Chief Schwab have actually been doing the deciding in this matter of illegal gambling rackets, or are being directed by a higher-up in political or gambling circles.

That old excuse of derelict officials: "The people want gambling places in the city," meaning, of course, a majority of the people, is no good. If a majority of people want anti-gambling laws repealed they can accomplish that end by demanding legislative action. Meanwhile it is not up to officials to select some laws for enforcement and others for non-enforcement.

Germany's Future Hangs In Balance

A STRUGGLE is now going on inside Germany which may shape the future of Europe. It begins with the farmers and the coal miners. They are not making their food available to city dwellers or their coal available to industries. Steel production is far below what the allies agreed to "permit." Germany is stagnating in stolid protest against its defeat.

To crack this apathy and decay, France, Britain, and the United States have begun to lay plans for the calling of an assembly in September to draft a constitution for the 11 states of Western Germany. It remains to be seen whether this new attempt at federalization will restore German spirit and industry, whether it will merely revive the old desires for revenge and worship of the superman in the super-state, or whether it will fizzle completely, leaving the way open for the Russians to swallow the half of Germany they do not now hold.

We have a right to hope that the plan will succeed and that a German republic will emerge. A healthy Germany is essential to a happy Europe. In the past a healthy Germany has always proved to be one which could not restrain its ambitions. The only real answer seems to be a United States of Europe operating—and cooperating—within the framework of the United Nations.

Perhaps the union of Western Germany is a step in that direction.

Roadside Stands Lure Motorists

THE ROADSIDE STAND has come to be a source of considerable income to the farmer. A study by the Michigan State Horticultural Society reveals that a typical apple grower in that state received a little over 19 per cent of the customer's dollar by selling through ordinary channels, but 60 per cent when merchandising from his own stand.

Buyers are usually passing motorists who think they can "save money" but who are frequently disillusioned by finding prices as high as they would have to pay in hometown stores.

The roadside vendor needs to observe a few precautions. He cannot, for example, palm off inferior goods on the theory that the purchaser will be miles away and beyond complaint when he uses what he has bought. Well treated, many customers will return.

Parking facilities should be provided to permit purchasers to stop without danger to themselves or passing traffic. Salesmen need to be more skilled than the children and old people often set to "mind the stand." Signs, for the sake of highway safety, need to be in large letters and well in advance of stands.

Roadside marketing is a distinctly American selling device born of good roads and city-farm proximity. But it is well for the housewife, buying on a pleasant drive during a short season, to remember that the regular grocer serves her well all the year around. He not only has staples on the shelf, but takes a good deal of trouble to procure fresh fruits and vegetables so that in good weather and bad, in heat and cold and all the time, the customer may be served.

The grocery is a basic necessity, the roadside stand a summer luxury.

Viewing the National Scene

Truman 'Finds Himself'

By THOMAS L. STOKES

YOU WOULDN'T know your President. The little man who seemed to rattle around in that big barn which is the White House, with occasional exhibitions of futility of one not quite comfortable in his surroundings, has broken from his shell and stepped forth as a breezy and comfortable figure, confident to the point of cockiness.

The contact with the plain people whom he governs has effected a really remarkable transformation.

Franklin D. Roosevelt used to go out among the people regularly to refresh himself. These trips, difficult as they are physically, acted upon the former president as a tonic. His doctors often commented upon that.

In his case, as in that of his successor, such contacts with the people seemed to bring out the inner, essential man, to pull up to the surface something that was concealed behind the formal facade of the White House and the ceremony and routine that makes the president a captive to his job, an impersonal aloof functionary.

These contacts with the people produced in Mr. Roosevelt a magnificent expansiveness which, in turn, reacted upon the crowds to arouse frequently a frenzied exaltation. He was the squire, the descendant of Dutch patrons, inspecting the vast estate which is the United States and visiting with the tenants. It was all done in the grand manner.

Harry Truman, too, has reverted to type in a way. His contact with the people re-creates again the amiable and friendly fellow who, as a haberdashery store proprietor and a local politician, enjoyed swapping yarns with his friends and exchanging wisecracks of the street-corner variety. This brings a friendly reaction from those who come to see and hear him. He is again Independence and Kansas City, Missouri, just as Franklin D. Roosevelt was Hyde Park, New York.

* * *

"Big Show" Comes Next.

HIS easy air of informality and confidence has developed gradually during the trip. After a few days he had acquired a style where it was not at all as if he were making a speech, but as if he were leaning over the back platform chatting in man-to-man fashion.

His language, at first reserved, took on a saltiness as when, at Sacramento in speaking of the experience of his grandfather—a freighter from Kansas, who bought a big ranch where the capital of California now is located—he said, "The partner of the old man went south with the assets of the freighting company and he had to sell that ranch for 75-thousand dollars to pay his share of the debts." At a previous stop he told the crowd that he was "going down to Berkeley to get me a degree."

He relates proudly, how people along the sidewalks greet him with "Hi, Harry!"

This trip has been a rehearsal for the campaign to some, of which the President speaks often, and is so accepted by him and his aides. The technique of the road show has been polished and now is about ready for the "big time" after tryouts in the tank towns.

As for routine, the President always asks the crowd after he has finished talking:

"Would you like to meet my family?"

Then he introduces Mrs. Truman and Margaret, and often tells a story that always gets a big laugh about how his daughter worked for four years at George Washington University in Washington for a degree, and that the same night she got hers he got one "for nothing."

The President is the best barker for his own show.

He tells always what good crowds he had back up the road, and what a fine welcome he got.

He had such a good time that he has decided to continue the performance all the way back home to Washington, though previously it had been expected that the trip from the coast would be fast and without many interruptions.

Washington Calling

Stassen Prospects Dim

By MARQUIS CHILDS

OF THE three leading contenders for the Republican presidential nomination, Harold Stassen is given the least chance to capture the grand prize at Philadelphia. Experienced observers rule out even the possibility of the No. 2 place for the big, broad-shouldered farmer's son from Minnesota.

For one of Stassen's burning ambitions this would be a bitter anti-climax to a campaign as remarkable as any in American political history. Few men have gone so far on so limited a career in public office.

Largely by his own heroic endeavors, Stassen lifted himself to a point at which he threatened to run away with the convention. It was an achievement that took nerve, resourcefulness, endless energy, patience and great self-discipline. All these qualities Stassen has as a counterpoise to his vaulting ambition.

His ardent backers reject vehemently the view of the calculating professionals who deny Stassen a chance. They point to the passionate partisanship of the Stassen delegates. With this core of unflinching support, they insist that the Stassen managers can maneuver i. a deadlock to bring about a victory for their hero.

* * *

Weakened By Shift.

IN MY opinion, Stassen's big chance for the nomination was in his original approach. That was to build himself up as an independent, taking a stand of his own regardless of the views of party regulars. In this way he might have accumulated such strength in popular and delegate following that the convention could not have turned him down.

That was the role he assumed when he returned from his service with the Navy in the Pacific at the age of 38. A delegate to the conference in San Francisco that shaped the United Nations, he increased his stature as a public figure of independence and integrity.

Following a carefully plotted course to capture the presidency, he made his voice heard throughout the nation. What he said about American responsibility to win the peace was in accord with what most Americans were thinking.

With only a small organization and paying his own way in part by lecturing and writing, Stassen made remarkable progress. Visiting western Europe and Russia, he showed his desire to learn at first hand the problems his country faced.

A year ago, he began a change in his tactics. This was shown in his declaration that no nation in Europe carrying out nationalization or socialization of industry should be given Marshall Plan aid.

He was thus to the right of Sen. Robert A. Taft, who recognized that such a provision would make the program unworkable.

In his discussion of public housing, Stassen was fuzzy, seeming to evade a stand on the part government should play.

Regardless of the outcome of the convention in Philadelphia, the country will be in Stassen's debt. If it had not been for his aggressive campaigning, we would have had even less opportunity than we have had to see the other contenders in action. He forced them to get out into the country and to say something about their views on national and international issues.

That in itself is a real achievement and, ironically enough, it is one of the reasons why the Old Guard means to shut him out.

Vandenberg Discussed As 'Dark Horse'

By DREW PEARSON

(Editor's Note: Senator Arthur Vandenberg, No. 1 dark horse of the Republican party today, is analyzed in Drew Pearson's columns on GOP candidates for president.)

* * *

WASHINGTON — After the Cleveland GOP convention finished nominating Alf Landon for president in 1936, they looked round anxiously for a good vice-presidential running-mate. Colonel Bertie McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, joining in the search, dropped in to see Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan to propose putting his name in nomination.

"Let me ask you one question," replied Vandenberg. "How would you like to be vice-president of anything?"

The matter was dropped. Much to McCormick's disgust, his rival, Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, was nominated instead.

At that time Vandenberg was a staunch isolationist and the apple of Colonel McCormick's eye. Today the Colonel cartoons him on the front page of the Tribune as "The Benedict Arnold of the Republican party."

At that time also, there was nothing Vandenberg wanted more than to be president of the United States. He was a dark horse in 1936, again in 1940, and again in 1944. In 1940 his friends arranged a careful build-up and were all set for the lightning to strike—when the tumultous cohorts of Wendell Willkie took away the play.

Today, Arthur Vandenberg could probably have the Republican nomination. Probably also he could be president—if he let his friends go out and work for him. But he won't.

Furthermore, Van has pretty well convinced a lot of his friends that, at the zenith of his career, he sincerely does not want the honor he sought so long in the past.

* * *

Vandenberg Is Seasoned.

THE CAREER of Arthur Vandenberg shows that, despite all the emphasis on younger blood in politics, age has its assets: that the Stassens and the Deweys sometimes have to season before they become statesmen.

A few years ago, Vandenberg was a mixture of bumptious pomposity nicknamed the "Kemal Pasha" of the Young Turks, whose Senate antics nearly cost him re-election in Michigan. Campaigning to keep his Senate seat in 1934, Van told his friend, Harry Toy, now police commissioner of Detroit: "We'd better be frank and tell this crowd tonight that I'm licked. The Wayne county vote is going to swamp me."

Toy, however, urged Van not to give up the fight. And the next day none other than Franklin Roosevelt inadvertently came to his opponent's rescue. At the urging of Gen. Hugh Johnson and Donald Richberg, FDR renewed the auto code, one of the most reactionary of the NRA creations. Result: Thousands of auto workers stayed away from the polls and Vandenberg was re-elected by the scant margin of 5,000 votes.

* * *

Van Learned Hard Way.

IT HAS taken the senator from Michigan a long time to learn some things, but he has learned them well. His mistakes, however, have been many.

It was not long ago, for instance, that he was not only the darling of the Chicago Tribune, but of rabble-rouser Gerald L. K. Smith, even wrote long letters to Smith pointing out that there were no basic differences between their points of view.

It was no later than 1943 at the Mackinac Island Republican conference that Van outlined a strong isolationist platform for party. And in 1939, one month after Hitler invaded Poland, the senator from Michigan told the world:

"This so-called war is nothing but about 25 people and propaganda. Get them and you'll have the whole thing. They want our money and our men."

In 1943, Van was one of the chief boosters of the MacArthur-for-President movement, remarking to Mrs. Alf Heiberg, after it fizzled: "I'm the ex-manager of your ex-husband." And at the San Francisco conference which organized the United Nations, Vandenberg was just as strong for the veto as Comrade Molotov.

In fact, had it not been for the consistent battling of Australia's Foreign Minister Evatt and other small nations, the veto would be even more unworkable than it is today.

In brief, there was little about Vandenberg similar to the long-range statesmanship of a much younger senator from Arkansas who, six years before, introduced the Fulbright resolution putting the USA on record for international cooperation. Vandenberg is purely a product of the atomic age.

* * *

Genuine Leader.

HOWEVER, we are dealing with the present, not the past. And unquestionably the fact that Vandenberg has seen the light, makes him all the more effective. He can speak from experience. People listen when he tells the isolationists how wrong they are.

And today, he is, beyond question, the most influential leader in the Republican party, and on foreign affairs the most influential spokesman in the nation.

As president, Vandenberg would be his own secretary of state. Foreign policy would be in capable hands. Domestic policy not so much so.

On internal problems, the senator from Michigan has frequently taken his cue from the General Motors clique which dominates his state, or from Arthur Summerfield, GOP national committeeman and president of the Detroit Auto Dealers who now face a grand jury probe over the mannarin which he raised GOP money. Locally also, Van has not been averse to accepting support from the powerful Frank McKay race-track and gambling ring. Though a matter of political expediency, this wedding does not bear too close inspection.

These, however, are not the factors now being considered by Republican leaders as they approach the Philadelphia convention. What they have in mind are two things: 1. The senator's age and health; 2. Can they control Vandenberg once they put him in office?

The answer to point 2 is that when it came to domestic policy—the chief concern of the politicians—Van would be amenable to reason. On foreign policy he would be his own boss.

Regarding point No. 1, the senator is 64, the same age as President Truman. Although he complains of violent headaches and has to travel at a slower pace than formerly, he also amazes colleagues by the strength and virility he shows during hour-long Senate speeches.

While I am convinced Vandenberg honestly does not want to be president, I am also convinced that, if nominated, he would serve.

But regardless of what happens in Philadelphia next week, the place of Arthur Vandenberg in history is secure. Regardless of past errors, or even perhaps because of them, he is the most important influence on our foreign policy and one of the great statesmen of our time.

Assignment: America

Awaiting Big Moment

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — Well, I'm all set now. Got my extra pants pressed and the Missus has turned the collars on those shirts that were getting just a little bit frayed. I'm going to wait until Saturday to get my haircut, and then I may splurge and even buy a couple of new neckties.

Next week, I go on television—and boy, am I nervous!

Actually, of course, I'm not getting top billing in this performance—which, incidentally, is the Republican national convention at Philadelphia—but that doesn't really make any difference.

Like I always say, you can always spot a standout performer, even in a mob scene. And you never know where that sort of thing might lead.

I had a chance like this once before, and muffed it, but that's because I just didn't realize the possibilities until it was too late.

Shortly after they slaked us up, three deep or so, in front of the speakers platform on opening day, newsmen covering the convention began to squirm and wiggle like kids kept after school.

Soon after the most insensitive scribe began to show signs of acute suffering. It was hot, hotter than the proverbial hinges of hades—and although the jammed humanity and circulating cigar smoke of conventions are notoriously more than somewhat stifling, this was something special.

"It's the television spotlights," someone finally said, and I looked around and up. Sure enough, high up there in the rafters of Madison Square Garden, a cluster of blazing, leering lights bit at my eyeballs and forced me to turn my head away.

* * *

Please Don't Disturb.

AFTER a while, however, we became used to the extra heat on the back of our necks and went on about our business of covering the convention. Then came surprise No. 2.

Somebody or other was orating from the stand and right down in front of the rostrum, veteran INS correspondent Jim Kilgallen was beating away at a running story.

Jim, who probably has covered more big stories than any other active news service reporter today, seemed utterly unaware that some sort of an era was being born.

Impervious to the confusion, he continued typing while photographers stepped back and forth across his desk, copy boys lurched against his chair in rushing to the phones and Legionnaires from Kalamazoo lumbered through looking for old pals from Peoria.

Suddenly an attendant leaned over two rows of chairs and tapped him on the shoulder.

"Take off your hat," he said.

Now I've worked with Kilgallen from Algiers to Albany, from Paris to Podunk, and Jim knows that in times of confusion the safest place for a reporter's hat (or helmet) is on his head. He didn't even look around.

"Shaddup," he replied pleasantly, and continued typing.

"Please take off your hat," the attendant repeated, almost pleading. "It shows on the television screen."

That stopped even Kilgallen. While the rest of us sat, shocked by this sudden realization that we were in on the act, Jim slowly doffed his battered hat and held it in his hands.

"I didn't know it looked that bad," he said.

"It's not that," the attendant said hurriedly. "It's just that it's the only one in focus right now and it sort of stands out."

"Do tell," quoth James and returned to typing. . . .

Well, that was the beginning. During ensuing days, the television boys frequently sent messages down for us to move to one side or keep out of the speaker's way—and up on the stage the honor guests, tipped off in advance, smiled and gestured and hemmed their way through the act. But we were still a little too stunned.

This time, however, I'm going to be prepared. Anybody want to buy advertising space on the back of my coat?

Dave Boone Says:

THE conventions will be televised and being amazed and disappointed at the looks of the participants will now become compulsory.

* * *

If there is anything that is really hard on the eyes it is a few thousand politicians all under one tent with their favorite sons.

* * *

Since television is to be used I suggest that all the delegates and candidates use makeup. In some cases, they should adopt complete disguises. It was bad enough to hear the speakers. Now we have to look at 'em!

* * *

I figure that during the conventions the owner of a television set so defective that he gets only blurred visions will be in top luck.

THE FIRST contingent of Republican candidates arrived in Philadelphia gnawing on their K-rations . . . Considering what they've been through they look fine.

* * *

Reception arrangements have been worked out to perfection. . . . The committee has candidates unloading at three stations simultaneously and each gets five minutes on the back platform.

* * *

Philadelphia expects 30 thousand visitors . . . Not bad for a team that's been out of the first division for 16 years.

* * *

But at the moment there is a shortage of convention seats and a surplus of smoke-filled rooms. . . . This means no candidate on the first ballot.

Speed Goal Now Set at 1,700 MPH

Rocket Plane Tests Continue

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The Air Force said today it will continue tests with the XS-1 supersonic rocket plane aimed at eventual speeds up to 1,700 miles per hour—nearly three times the speed of sound.

Capt Charles E Yeager of Mira, W Va, 25-year-old Air Force pilot who first flew the plane faster than sound, will continue the tests, probably with other pilots

He has flown the XS-1 faster than sound many times since he first pierced the sonic barrier Oct. 14, 1947, over the Muroc, Cal., test centers.

The Air Force said limit of the speed of the XS-1 is conjectural and dependent upon many factors With its present power system it is expected to reach a maximum speed of 1,000 miles per hour.

Just how fast the XS-1 has travelled is still a closely guarded military secret All the Air Force will say is that the plane many times has gone far faster than the speed of sound

The speed of sound varies from approximately 760 miles per hour at sea level to 660 miles per hour at 40,000 feet

ALCOHOL, OXYGEN USED

The present power plant of the XS-1 consists of an engine using alcohol and liquid oxygen for fuel These liquids are pushed into the four rocket motors by non-inflammable nitrogen under pressure

The next step for boosting the tiny plane's speed will be to replace the nitrogen pressure system with a mechanical turbo pump to force the fuel into the rockets faster

"When equipped with a specially designed turbo pump which permits carrying a substantially greater load of liquid oxygen and alcohol for fuel than the present method, the XS-1 will have a speed potential of 1,700 miles per hour," the Air Force said.

Air Force scientists said they will continue to follow the "painfully methodical approach" toward reaching the full speed potential of the airplane

A pressure pump system still is in the design stage The four cylinder rocket motor is located in the tail

SUNDAY PUNCH—New "Sunday punch" of the Republic F.84 Thunderjet nestles under wings of the fast fighter: 8 HVAR (high velocity aircraft rockets) added to its six .50-caliber machine guns. New order for 400 gives Air Force 1,000 of these craft.

Damage Suit Appeal Lost

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The U S Supreme Court has refused to review a damage suit resulting from the explosion of a liquefied natural gas plant of the East Ohio Gas company in Cleveland in which 130 persons were killed.

The suit was filed by Eileen Moran for the death of her husband, Patrick J. Moran, one of those killed in the 1944 explosion She sued the Pittsburgh-Des Moines company, which fabricated steel at a Pittsburgh, Pa., Plant, and the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel company, which erected tanks. Similar suits by 78 persons seek damages totaling $6,085,000.

The U S. district court in Pittsburgh dismissed her suit. The U. S circuit court in Philadelphia, however, reversed the district court and ordered further proceedings The companies apealed to the Supreme court to review the circuit court action The firms said their work at the plant was completed and accepted by the gas company 13 months before the explosion

Para-Aminosalicylic Acid Being Tested

PAS Gives Ray of Hope For TB Victims

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, AP Science Editor

NEW YORK—(AP)—PAS, a new synthetic drug, is being discussed at the National Tuberculosis association annual meeting as prospective aid for TB.

The prospect is for PAS to be used along with another drug, probably streptomycin. Dr. Guy P. Youmans, of Northwestern university medical school, said that in animal experiments PAS plus streptomycin, and also one of the sulfone drugs known as promin and promizole, are more effective than streptomycin alone.

The latter is a distinct help to most cases of tuberculosis, but falls to cure because after a few months the TB germs become resistant. The drug no longer kills them.

But PAS may still damage these germs after streptomycin quits. This finding was made on animals, which is not a certain guarantee that it will be the same with humans. These experiments were reported by Dr. Robert G. Bloch, of the department of medicine, University of Chicago.

Recent medical reports from Sweden have been more enthusiastic about PAS, stating that tuberculosis patients obtained dramatic relief from suffering. But the Swedes did not claim that PAS is a cure by itself.

This drug, full name para-aminosalicylic acid, was first tried for tuberculosis at Duke university in 1940.

Dr. Selman A. Waksman, discoverer of streptomycin, at the New Jersey agricultural experiment station, Rutgers university, predicted that there will be other antibiotics for tuberculosis. Streptomycin is an antibiotic, and the word means a drug that is made by microbes. Penicillin is the most famous antibiotic.

He said that about 30 chemical compounds have been isolated so far from the same microbes, actinomycetes, that produce streptomycin. Some of these offer definite promise against tuberculosis. He predicted also that the tuberculosis antiobiotics probably will be drugs which act along with other TB remedies.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How to Live Longer

Someone asked Pappy Miller last week how he stayed so spry at ninety. Pappy told him:

"Well, sir—when I work, I work hard. When I set, I set loose. When I think, I go to sleep."

According to Doc Hollister, that formula isn't far amiss. "Hard work," says Doc, "never wore out anyone before his time, providing he knew how and when to relax."

Doc himself works overtime, with his daytime patients at the office, and his evening calls. And when he gets home he takes it easy with a mellow glass of beer and chats with the missus until it's time to go to bed.

From where I sit, relaxing is a fine art—especially in these tense, fast-moving times. And there's nothing like a temperate glass of beer—enjoyed with pleasant company—to restore that easy frame of mind that one needs after a hard day's work.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, June 18.

IT is probable that the spectacular advance upon usual lines of progress recently set in action by an abrupt and unforeseen turn of events, may be held up by a block of stubborn and distressing hindrances. Such might arise from enmity, lack of proper ways and means, or even the lowering of vitality or physical health. Jealousy, postponements, delays, could be at the behest of superiors, employers, or elders intent on frustration.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves confronted by stubborn obstacles, delays, or a blunder in the putting over of important plans and projects well on the way toward surprising achievement. Lack of proper technique might instigate the withdrawal of promised support from those whose cooperation is vital. This induced by blunder, physical handicap or a spirit of enmity, jealousy or other sinister intent, causing loss, postponement and impediment. Stubbornly "holding the fort" until more benign winds blow away obstructions or rancour, might turn the tide toward security and ultimate progress. Persistence, fortitude and patience are advised.

A child born on this day may be slow and undisposed to attack blocks and handicaps, possibly through lowered vitality, or other form of impediment. Safeguard health and family interests.

Bible School to Start 'Graduations' Tonight

A total of 1,870 Daily Vacation Bible school pupils will be "graduated" this week after a two-week course in religious education. Closing services start today, continue through Friday and until Sunday night.

The registration in Bible schools for this season is the largest in the history, according to Mrs. Charles Ray, director. The 1,870 total includes 17 participating and four cooperating schools as well as independent groups.

"In most cases our schools have been crowded to the doors during these two weeks," she said today. "At the Main Street Evangelical UB school for instance, they had an enrollment of 215 with an average attendance of 185. I don't know what they did with all those children.

"It's been the same way in almost every instance. And this summer the teachers really accomplished things. Classes were conducted almost like those at real school and pupils learned a great deal."

THREE TONIGHT

Graduation at the First United Presbyterian, the Grace Gospel and the First Evangelical UB churches will be held tonight. At the First Evangelical, Rev. V. C. Stamets, who has told Bible stories during the chapel periods each day, will tell the favorite one as a part of exercises.

The 100 children enrolled in the United Presbyterian church will take part in a program at 7:30 p. m. Each class will feature some part of its work. Handwork will be on display in the Sunday school auditorium preceding the program. Attendance certificates will be given out and various awards made.

Pupils at the Grace Gospel church will have a program at 7:45 p. m. woven around the theme, "A Boy's First Experience in Bible School." Friday there will be a picnic at Liberty park. Children are to meet at the church at 10:30 a. m. with a picnic dinner at noon.

FRIDAY SERVICES

Schools which have planned exercises for Friday are: Park Avenue Baptist, 7:15 p. m.; St. Matthew's Lutheran, party for children, with refreshments at recess, Friday morning; Mt. Hermon Baptist, party during recess for children and exhibit at 6 p. m. for parents; Pilgrim Holiness, program at 10:30 a. m. with dramatization; Woodland, open house Friday morning; Shiloh Baptist, exercises and exhibit at 7:30 p. m.; St. Paul's Lutheran, at 7:30 p. m., with exhibit, movies and talk by Rev. John G. Gensel; Hedges open house, with program and exhibit, Friday morning; Mayflower Congregational, program by different departments at 10 a. m.

Those which have chosen Sunday night for their programs include: Lincoln Heights, East Mansfield First Brethren, Bowman street, Main Street Evangelical UB, and the Salvation Army. The East Mansfield school will have a picnic at North Lake park Friday at 6:30 p. m. in addition to the Sunday night program.

Philippines Again Draw U. S. Capital

Cautious Mining Financing Begins

MANILA—(AP)—American capital, keeping a leary eye cocked for adverse political developments, is dipping a cautious foot into the Philippine mining business.

After three years of hesitation several New York firms specializing in speculative investments are reported making contacts with islands mining companies.

Philippine mines need capital and plenty of it. Existing mines were with a few exceptions almost totally destroyed during the war. Getting new mines started far out in the mountains and jungles is an expensive process.

Philippine mines prewar produced gold, silver, iron, copper, manganese and chrome. With gold still selling at $35 per ounce in the official U. S. market and costs up 300 per cent compared to 1941 gold has lost much of its glitter.

(The Manila black market pays from $43 to $48 an ounce to get gold for Chinese hoarders but no one knows how long this happy state of affairs will last.)

But base metals prices are booming under the impetus of Marshall plan buying and at least one large New York syndicate has staked a small fortune on a gamble that the official gold buying price will be raised within the next 18 months.

STARTED IN 1930s

A group of wealthy sugar growers from the central island of Negros began entering the mining field in the late 1930s when further expansion of the sugar industry was halted by the Philippine independence act.

Recently this group secured control of the Atok and Big Wedge mining companies and merged them to form a new corporation.

This firm owns the highly profitable Big Wedge mine near Baguio, adjacent to Benguet Consolidated, and is looking over the list of war wrecked mines elsewhere in the Bauio district and the Philippines for possible operating contracts or outright purchase. Leading figure in this group is Placido Mapa, the republic's new secretary of commerce.

ENGINEERS SENT

The Barney Balaban-Rosenwald family interests of New York, Newmont Mining company, Guggenheim family, and Freeport Sulphur Inc. have at various times sent engineers to look over the local field. At least one of these groups is now actively prospecting, the most likely prewar properties on a 10 per cent gross owner royalty basis, common in California but new to the Philippines.

Outside capital, while looking favorably on the administration's announced policy of encouraging the mining industry, has been disturbed by ultra-nationalistic statements made in the Philippine congress and by the international situation.

A few island mines have been rehabilitated with their own prewar resources. Bank loans have been granted only in cases where substantial amounts of marketable ore were ready for shipment and could be used as collateral.

The Philippine government through its rehabilitation finance corporation lent one mine $375,000 for its reconstruction but in this case the firm was controlled by persons close to the administration

In May, Mindanao Mother Lode Mining company, controlled by American local capital, secured the first postwar listing of a Philippine stock on the San Francisco stock exchange.

Back CIO Rejection Of Offer

Stewards, Officials Uphold Action

Westinghouse union officials went back to Pittsburgh today to resume negotiations for wage increases with company officials after stewards and officers of Local 711 and Local 759, UE-CIO unanimously supported the union's rejection of the company's offer yesterday in a special meeting.

Joseph Hawkins, president of Local 711, and Jack Hanrahan, chief steward of Local 759 (salaried workers) left last night to attend the session. Hawkins said an early agreement was possible "if the company offers a sensible figure."

The rejection voted by the stewards and union officials was in line with the action of the Westinghouse negotiating board.

Hawkins said the officers also voted to instruct the negotiating board of Westinghouse "to accept nothing less than a wage settlement in take-home pay comparable to the settlements made with other electrical industries."

This refers directly to settlements made in General Electric and General Motors. GE's settlement called for an eight per cent increase with a guarantee of a nine cent minimum and 16-cent maximum raise, plus other economic benefits.

GM's agreement was an 11-cent wage boost plus cost of living adjustments during the contract period of the next two years, and improvements in pension and insurance plans.

So far, Westinghouse's only offer has been a six per cent wage increase from which, according to Hawkins, a pension and other security program costs would be deducted.

DANES ASTONISHED

COPENHAGEN —(INS)— Danish official quarters expressed astonishment today at reports of U. S. plans to build a permanent radio station in Greenland.

Two From City To Get Degrees

Two Mansfield students will be graduated this week end at the 77th annual commencement at the University of Illinois, Champaign, Ill.

They are James A. Campbell, 141 Vennum avenue, who will get a BS degree in the division of special services for war veterans, and Allen M. Sanford, 53 Sherman avenue, who will receive a BS degree in electrical engineering.

Commencement will be held in divided programs to be given Saturday in the auditorium and Sunday in the Huff gymnasium. More than 2,700 degrees will be conferred by President George D. Stoddard.

Suggests Local Bonus Inquiries

COLUMBUS—(INS)—State Bonus Director Chester W. Goble said today that county soldier relief commissions and major veterans organizations could answer many questions now being directed to the state headquarters in Columbus.

Gen. Goble advised applicants for the World War II payments to take their questions to county bonus representatives and full time service officers.

The milling of coins did not become a regular practice in England until 1662.

Pilot Wins Air Trophy

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Capt. Charles E. Yeager, an unassuming 25-year-old Air Force pilot, Wednesday joined a long line of illustrious American airmen who have held the Mackay trophy.

Yeager was given the trophy by Air Force Secretary Symington for his feat in piloting the rocket-powered Bell XS-1 through the sonic barrier at Muroc Dry lake, Calif., last Oct. 14.

He was the first of five men, two from the national advisory committee on aeronautics and three from the Air Force, to pilot an XS-1 faster than sound.

Actually, there are two of the tiny ships that have exceeded the speed of sound at any given altitude. Three of them were built, one for the Air Force, one for the NACA and one for spare parts.

Both of those that have flown when dropped from a B-29 superfortress have penetrated the sonic barrier.

The Mackay trophy, an immense silver bowl, has gone in the past to such famous military aviators as Gen. Henry H. (Hap) Arnold, former air chief of staff who won it twice, the first time as an infantry officer, and Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, premier American ace in the first World war.

Intelligence Overlooked In Rush To Gain Quick Skill In Reading

NEW YORK—Students of journalism—the kind, that is, who never will make journalists but will become, in time, insolvent and morose Washington correspondents of the New Republic, the Herald Tribune and the Daily Worker—constantly pester their betters with questions about the field of cosmic wisdom and comment.

This is a Tibetan realm, held by a very few authentic priests but heavily infested with astrologers in gaudy booths around the bazaar, crying ambiguous platitudes crudely dramatized as revelations.

The fact that there are two schools—the, as it were, divine, and the larger one of snake-charmers and fire walkers—accounts for some of the confusion in the other, and lower, world. The readers don't know the difference. The true pundit has been known to prove this by the practical test of attributing some profound banality to some imaginary philosophers, without question from his public.

The Americans, a brash, impetuous lot, rushed the fad of reading to reckless extreme. Now all above the age of five can, in a manner of speaking, read. There was a serious error in timing, however, for, of those who read, only a few know what they read and only the scholars can remember for an hour. Intelligence was neglected in favor of mere skill.

The lack of comphrehension is demonstrated every hour on the hour. In the news broadcasts, the false emphasis uttered by adults in reading simple bulletins shows that reading is only a trained, animal trick. These readers—and they are professionals and therefore, superior—no more understand what they are saying than the coils and dials.

Reading is not education nor, necessarily, a key to education. And the knack, for that is all it is, betrays the ignorant into wild embarrassments, including wars. Millions of Americans read stuff deliberately contrived to exploit their superstitions and arouse them artfully.

Newspaper publishers as a whole trade, by common consent, though without a record vote, long ago decided that the people could not be trusted with the subject of religion.

In the last few years we have had an almost parallel experience with the atom bomb. A few superior intellects know the secret, but the family, or pack, or nations and breeds comprising the human race would obliterate humanity if these things were put within reach of the insensate people.

Religion is not one of the freedoms of the United States but the darkest and tightest of taboos. As a pacifier, the press, including, of course, radio, dignifies, as true religious matter, weary and perfunctory sayings of a clergy who long ago decided to partition the trade along a meandering Curzon line and lay off competition and raiding.

Active rivalry, led by aggressive missionaries, had kicked up such hatred that the cloth, themselves, couldn't take it. It was easier and altogether pleasanter to whack up the available clientele on a formula comparable to the old 5-5-3 naval ratio, love one another, and bow heads in unison on days of state prayer.

This and That About People Who Share Glare of Broadway Lights

Yale Whiffenpoofs and Mori Ass'n members are reported steaming at Rudy Vallee, who supposedly minted a fortune by copyrighting "The Whiffenpoof Song." They argue he's not a member of either outfit . . . Stan Shaw, who pioneered all-night broadcasting locally, resumes as disc jock for a television station . . . One of the zingiest tunes played by the Stork Club crew was written by Judy Murray, cousin to Mrs. Alf G. Vanderbilt. It is named "Wondering" . . . Bing's right-hander, Bill Morrow, and ice-skate beaut Gretchen Merrill are merely a 3rd paragraph column item . . . Legalized gambling goes into effect in San Juan, Puerto Rico, on Aug. 15th. This won't change a thing.

The N. Y. Times recently built another edifice extending its 43rd Street location through to 44th Street. But the 44th Street side has no entrance, which is simply a waste of money so far as its drama critic, J. Brooks Atkinson, is concerned. When Mr. Atkinson is rushing back to the paper to prepare his review—from an opening on 44th or 45th and other streets north—he has to fight his way through Broadway pedestrian traffic around to the tiresome old 43rd Street entrance . . . And you think critics have it easy!

Bike Riders Injured In Crash

Mansfielders Hurt In Mishap Near Tiro

Two Mansfielders were seriously injured at midnight Wednesday when their motorbike was struck by a car on State Route 39 near Tiro.

The injured are:

Ralph Ross, 27, of Burger avenue, operator of the motorbike.

Miss Gerry Popham, 20, of 874 Geddes street, passenger on the bike.

Both Ross and Miss Popham suffered compound fractures of the left thigh bone when they were hurled 10 feet into a ditch by the impact. Ross also suffered cuts on his left arm and Miss Popham received severe shock. Their conditions were reported as "fair" at Shelby Memorial hospital today.

State highway patrolmen said the motorbike was struck by a sedan driven by Charles Edward Magers Jr., 16, of Tiro, R. D. 1 Magers told officers he was driving west on the highway when he noticed the motorbike traveling toward him in the middle of the highway. He said the bike had no lights.

SWERVES CAR

Magers said he swerved his car in an attempt to avoid hitting the bike but that the left fender struck the bike.

Ross told officers he was carrying a lighted flashlight and that the lights of Magers' car blinded him.

Riding in the car with Magers were: Roger Smith, 15, Tiro, R. D. 1; Stanley Lash, 15, Shelby, R. D. 3; William Wagner, 15, of Tiro; Edward Fried, 18, of Shelby, and Glenn Burkey, 16, of Tiro. They were not injured.

Receiving minor injuries last night in a three-car collision on South Main street at West First were two-year-old Betty Taylor, 263 Ashland road, and Miss Mary Slavenburg, 19, of Mt. Vernon.

Police said the two were injured when a car driven by Claude S. Stanfield of Mt. Vernon hit the rear of a car driven by Robert Taylor of the Ashland road address. Taylor's car, stopped in traffic at the intersection, was forced into the rear of a car driven by Kames P. Guntre of Wooster. Stanfield was arrested for unsafe operation and fined $15 and costs in municipal court today.

The Taylor child suffered contusions of the right knee and Miss Slavenburg received mouth lacerations. The accident, police said, occurred at 9:05 p. m.

'Kidnaping' Turns Out To Be Triangle

ORLEANS, Ind. —(AP)— Mrs. Hallie Goodpasture, 24-year-old Orleans housewife, was back home today after being sought for nine days as a kidnaping victim.

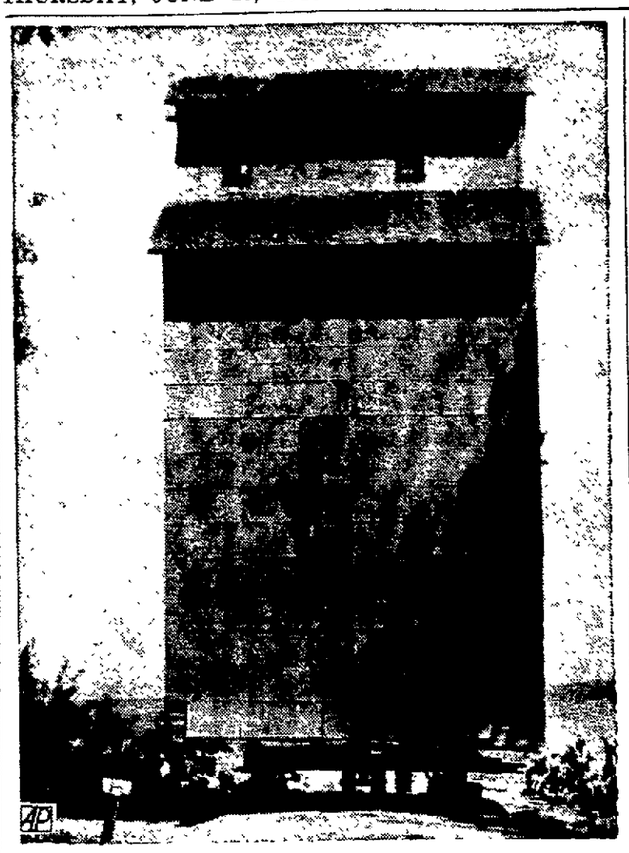
Adrian Parks, a 25-year-old neighbor who was charged by Walker Goodpasture with kidnaping his wife, is being held in the Orange county jail at Paoli.

But Sheriff Ben Nadell said Mrs. Goodpasture signed a statement in which she said Parks "did not kidnap me."

"I ran away with him," Nadell quoted her as saying. He said she added, "I had to return. I wanted to see the children."

The Goodpastures have two sons, Garry, 8, and Paul 2.

Mrs. Goodpasture and Parks returned here last night.



EASY ON THE CURVES, FELLOWS—At a dizzy speed of seven miles in 10 days, this 66-foot high grain elevator moves down the road from Millerton, Neb., to Garrison, in east-central Nebraska. An Omaha firm did the moving job on orders of the Farmers Cooperative Elevator company of Garrison, owner of the structure.

Fonkalsrud Praised For Hospital Service

Tribute was paid Dr. A. O. Fonkalsrud for his 16-year regime as superintendent at General hospital when board members met last night for the last meeting Dr. Fonkalsrud will attend.

Praise for his efficient management of the institution was given by L. A. Ott, Atty. C. H. Huston and Charles Fuchs, all of whom have served as board members during Dr. Fonkalsrud's entire term of service.

Dr. Fonkalsrud will be succeeded on July 1 by Wayne A. Copeland of Warsaw, N. Y., who resigned as administrator of the Wyoming Community hospital at Warsaw to accept the Mansfield post.

In his monthly report, Dr. Fankalsrud pointed out that both bed patients and the number of births for May of this year were lower than for the corresponding month in 1947.

"Last year," he pointed out, "we had 15 beds in the corridors most of the time, but since the state clamped down on that provision for providing extra beds, naturally it cut down on our patient population."

Last year in May there were 963 bed patients and for this year, 916. In May 1947 there were 169 births as compared with 131 for May this year.

The number of bed patients for the first five months of 1948 was 3,737; that for May, 1947 was 3,832. Total births for the first five months of this year was 663; the number for a corresponding period in 1947 was 800 births.

Strike Set In France

PARIS —(U.P.)— The communist-led General Confederation of Labor announced today that it was calling a one-hour general strike throughout France Saturday.

The communists sounded their call for a token stoppage throughout the country after the government moved in fast on an incipient strike wave in south France and worked out a truce in riot torn Clermont-Ferrand.

The administrative commission of the CGT called on all French workers to quit from 11 a. m. to noon (5 a .m. to 6 a. m. EDT) Saturday.

The communist summons to labor shaped up as an acknowledgment of failure to get a new strike movement started, and a bid to work up enthusiasm for the effort.

Death Takes Ray S. Kahl

Ray S. Kahl, 60, operator of Kahl's Tavern, Ashland road, died Wednesday night at People's hospital following a year's illness.

Born in Ashland county, March 16, 1888, Mr. Kahl had lived in this area most of his life.

He is survived by his wife, May Kunkle Kahl; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kahl of Weller township; two sisters, Mrs. Carl Oswalt and Mrs. Bryan Boyce, also of Weller township, and one brother, Ralph Kahl of Mansfield, R. D. 5.

Friends may call at the Finefrock funeral home where services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m., conducted by Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell. Burial will be in the Windsor cemetery.

Truckers Given Overload Warning

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — One out of every 10 trucks on Ohio's highways is overloaded and the practice is on the increase, George Mingle, superintendent of the state highway patrol, reported today.

Mingle said that last year there were 2524 arrests for loading trucks heavier than permitted by law, resulting in fines totaling $54,714. For the first five months of this year, he said, arrests already total 2244 and fines $50,284.

Attendance Grows At Junior Hi Frolic

Registration for the Junior Hi frolics, part of the YWCA summer program, will remain open until next Wednesday, Miss Margaret Wheeler, acting secretary, reported today.

Attendance at last night's frolic increased to about 30. Twenty teen-agers attended the first frolic last week. The programs held at the association building from 8 to 10 p. m. include dancing, games, and other entertainment.

SEVEN REBELS EXECUTED

ATHENS —(AP)— Greek press reports said seven rebels were executed today in Larisa, seven others were reported sentenced today by a military tribunal in Veroia for shelling Naoussa last March.

President Heads Back To Capital

Tells Crowd He Stands on Record

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN — (U.P.) — President Truman offered his record to the approval of the voters in a rear platform talk at Sedalia, Mo., today and told 4,500 listeners "if you don't like a President you can always kick him out."

His train running barely ahead of a violent rainstorm, the President spoke to the Sedalia crowd in cool but dry weather. In a four-minute speech, Mr. Truman told of his battle against high prices and laid another lash on Congress in the process.

He said this Congress had "done a grand job to the people, certainly not for them."

Obviously pleased at the size of the crowd, the President remarked that in none of his senatorial campaigns had he seen such a gathering in Sedalia.

The presidential special left the Missouri Pacific station at Independence, Mo., at 7:34 a. m. (CST). It is due back in Washington at 10:55 p. m. (CST) tomorrow.

Mr. Truman, who got up at 5:50 a. m. to pick up the morning paper, appeared refreshed and in good spirits at the station. He appeared some 20 minutes before the departure for Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Truman and daughter, Margaret.

Long Truce Need Hinted

TEL AVIV—(U.P.)—Count Folke Bernadotte hinted today that his search for permanent peace in Palestine would take more time than the 28-day truce, and that the Arabs and Jews would be asked to extend it.

The United Nations mediator and his assistants arrived by plane from Cairo. Bernadotte's main aim was to discuss peace plans with Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok of Israel.

Bernadotte indicated he might need "more than another month or two" to deal with the Arabs and Jews. Only 22 days of the current truce remains. It appeared he would have to seek an extension, probably for as long as he could get.

Ralph Bunch, assistant to Bernadotte, said the truce was being observed, with no incidents reported anywhere in Palestine.

Electric Firm Boosts Prices

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — General Electric company today put into effect a 5 to 12 per cent price increase on a number of household appliances and two industrial equipment items.

The price advance partially wiped out the $60,000,000 price cuts the company made on Jan. 1 of this year.

General Electric workers received an eight per cent wage increase last week.

FIRE DAMAGES CAR

Central station firemen extinguished a small blaze in the upholstering of a car owned by Charles Betz at 490½ Park avenue west at 5:41 p. m. yesterday. Firemen said damage was slight. The blaze was believed to have been started by a cigaret.

Pastor Leaves For Conference

Rev. Matthew G. Madden will leave early Friday morning for Oberlin to attend the week-long general conference assembly of the Congregational Christian churches.

Although the opening session of the conference is tonight, business will not get under way until tomorrow. The principal issue to be voted upon at the conference is the proposed merger between the Congregational and the Evangelical and Reformed churches.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Congratulations were extended today to Charles W. Conklin, Marion avenue road, by his friends and family on his birthday anniversary. Conklin, whose childhood home was in Bucyrus, is a graduate architect of Case School of Applied Science, Cleveland. He came to Mansfield 41 years ago to be assistant city engineer. He was associated with a local architectural firm until entering business for himself in 1932. He is a member of the Kiwanis, Art Guild and Westbrook country clubs, and also is a Knight Templar and Shriner.

He will celebrate the occasion quietly with the immediate members of his family at his home on Sunday in joint celebration with his daughter, whose birthday is on that day.

Birthday congratulations, also, to John Leppo, teller at the Citizens National Bank and Trust company. A family dinner will help him celebrate the anniversary.

STOPS IN CITY—

Robert J. Bennett, who began his Army career during the war as a private and now holds the rank of major, is spending the week at his home here, 289 East First street. Previously stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky., he is now en route to Yokohama, Japan, to join the Far Eastern command. Maj. Bennett's father, James P. Bennett, was formerly mayor of Mt. Gilead, but has resided in Mansfield for the past few years.

LAUGHS IT OFF—

A Shelby business executive, who chose the wrong place to park while in Mansfield, has an uncomfortable wish for Patrolman Tom Hempfield, who dutifully gave the Shelbyite a traffic violation ticket. In a letter to Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals, the business man expressed the wish the patrolman "drops in a rat hole." Furthermore, he wrote, he hopes the "young man gets none of the dollar" he sent to pay his parking fine. Hempfield took the "reprimand" with typical Irish humor. He said he guessed he'd frame the communication—and still keep a sharp eye on that parking space.

SURVIVAL TEST—

Pvt. Edgar W. Hiles, is completing the major phase of an extended survival ration test under life-raft conditions. The test was staged on Welfare Island, New York City, in the New York Medical college, Metropolitan hospital, research unit. The tests furnished data for planning military diets in situations of extreme stress. Hiles reported May 4 from Fort Knox, Ky., for control feeding and testing before beginning the deprivation diet May 12. He will stay five to 10 days longer for restorative feeding and observation.

Report Of Survey Studied

Service In City Called Adequate

Changes in all of the city's bus routes and two route combinations to shorten mileage and speed service were recommended today to Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., as the result of a passenger survey made last March.

A report of the survey conducted by Ebasco Services, Inc., of New York is being studied by the bus firm officials who said "a few changes will be made in operating schedules."

H. W. Arnold of Newark, president of the company, said the firm will not announce the changes until officials have had more time to study the report and discuss it with city officials.

The survey report described the city's bus service as "more than adequate in coverage of territory and in scheduled service rendered."

Here are the major recommendations which grew out of the survey:

1—Change the combination of two routes to North Main and Glessner instead of Reformatory-Glessner and South Main and Reformatory instead of North and South Main. The other routes would remain as they are: Park avenue-West Fourth street and Hedges-Fairground.

SHORTEN MILEAGE

2—Make some changes in routes to shorten the mileage wherever possible.

3—Revise operating schedules to provide staggering of arrival time in the downtown area to prevent traffic jams at Fourth and Main streets.

4—Establish an alternate or skip-stop plan for all routes outside the business area with a minimum distance of two blocks and a maximum distance of four blocks between stops.

5—Install "bus stop" and "no parking" zone signs where alternate stops have been located.

Principal route changes proposed as a result of the survey are in the southwest section of the city.

EXTEND PAW LINE

Proposals call for extension of the Park avenue west line to follow Park avenue to Parkwood boulevard, south on Parkwood to Maple street, west to Linden road, and north to Park avenue. It was recommended that service as far west as the B. and O. railroad on Park avenue be discontinued. Buses would start the return trip at Linden road.

Under the proposal, the Glessner line would follow the present route to Marion avenue, turn south on Marion avenue to Cline avenue, east on Cline to Sturges and then retrace the route.

There would be no Glessner avenue service over Maple street, Euclid avenue, or Highland avenue.

DISCONTINUE ROUTE

It was recommended that service to Lumbermens Heights be discontinued because of the small number of passengers using the buses. Under the proposal, service on Beechwood drive and Sunset boulevard in South Boulevards would be discontinued, buses operating only out Lexington avenue to the present route limit.

The proposal also calls for buses on the Fourth street line to operate over West Fifth street to Penn avenue, south to Fourth street, and west to Trimble road. The line now follows Fourth street all the way.

The recommended route changes would shorten the mileage of the present Glessner - Mansfield Tire line from 12.50 miles to 9.70 miles for the proposed Glessner-North Main line.

The proposed South Main-Mansfield Tire line would cover 13.25 miles. The Hedges-Fairground line would remain unchanged at 5.90 miles while the West Fourth-Park avenue line would be increased from 8.5 miles to 8.57 miles. The present North-South Main route covers 12.64 miles.

Two Drivers Fined On Speeding Counts

Two speeders were fined $10 and costs in municipal court today.

They were Karl Hindall, 34 Morningside drive, and Jack Cleckner, Mansfield, R. D. 4. For driving a motor vehicle with improper lights, Lowell Wood, 76½ West Fifth street, was fined $5 and costs.

Expert Gives Swimmer's Safety Code

Ten Rules Listed By YMCA Official

A ten-point code for swimming safety was outlined today by John Watkins, aquatic expert of the YMCA

He urged that parents insist that their children learn them by heart and understand their value He urged that they be posted prominently in summer camps or cottages

The 10 rules follow

1. Never go swimming alone If you do, there will be no one to help you if you get into trouble.

2 Never go swimming at an unguarded spot. Docks, piers and river banks are dangerous places to swim.

DON'T ATTEMPT a rescue unless you are a strong swimmer.

3. Never dive into strange water. You might hit your head on the bottom or get caught in debris.

4. Don't show off in the water. "Showoffs" cause many fatal accidents every year

5 Don't attempt a rescue unless you are a strong swimmer. You are only apt to get into trouble if you do.

6 Cool off before plunging into cold water Cramps or heart failure may be brought on by sudden changes in temperature.

7. If you can't swim, stay out of small boats. Never go out in a canoe or rowboat unless you can swim to shore.

8 Pay strict attention to warning signals They were put there for your protection.

9. Race toward the shore, not away from it. When swimming, "go out like a lamb and back like a lion."

10 Know your limitations. Don't go beyond your limits just because someone dares you.

Prices of 12 foods advanced, while five declined and 14 held unchanged.

Corn, rye, oats, beef, hams, cocoa, beans, potatoes, steers, hogs, lambs and butter advanced, while flour, wheat, barley, lard, and cottonseed oil declined.

Rivals Woo Delegation

Hopefuls Want Big Pennsylvania Vote

HARRISBURG, Pa. —(INS)— Republican presidential hopefuls today sensed a possible shift in control of Pennsylvania's important 73-member delegation to the GOP National convention.

Despite Gov. James H. Duff's "hands-off" warning, overtures were being made to conservative leaders for support of the powerful bloc after favorite son balloting in Philadelphia next week.

Campaign strategists for Sen. Robert A. Taft, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, and Harold E. Stassen are bidding quietly for the delegation's backing after its initial ballot for U. S. Sen. Edward Martin, Pennsylvania's favorite son.

Duff has been catapulted into a behind-the-scenes battle for control of the delegation by his arbitrary stand against commitments. His strong stand was taken prior to his election to head the delegation.

DENVER COMES ACROSS

DENVER —(UP)— One of the largest contributions to the plight of Europe came from Denver during the last part of 1947. Protestant churches of the city gathered 200,000 pounds of clothes. They also collected $1,500 in cash and five carloads of wheat.

CANDIDATE AND KEYNOTER CHAT—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, running for president, and Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois, who will be GOP keynoter, chat during the 40th annual governors' conference at Wentworth-by-the-Sea, N. H. With them is Dewey's son, John M., 12.—(International)

Candidates for GOP Nomination Differ on Major Issues

Views of Six Candidates Vary Widely

Platform Writers Face Tough Task

Divergent views of leading aspirants for the Republican presidential nomination are likely to make the task of writing a platform one of the most difficult to confront delegates when they open the party convention Monday.

The following compilation by AP Newsfeatures of publicly-expressed views of six of the leading candidates for the nomination indicate some of the problems the platform writers are likely to face.

UNVERSAL MILITARY TRAINING AND DRAFT

DEWEY — Has favored UMT and a limited selective service.

STASSEN — Proposes "a manpower program in which young men would register with congress deciding how many should be called each year."

TAFT—Opposes UMT but says temporary selective service may be necessary.

WARREN—For UMT "because it is a democratic process which calls upon rich and poor alike to serve equally in country's defense."

VANDENBURG — Has taken no position on this question. (His office says he's been too busy guiding Republican participation in a bi-partisan foreign policy to become involved in domestic issues.)

MARTIN—Has opposed UMT but will follow Republican party line on limited draft.

MacARTHUR — Has taken no position on various issues.

FOREIGN POLICY

DEWEY—Has urged a "United States of Europe as a strong third power devoted to the cause of peace." For firm policy toward Russia.

STASSEN— Would abolish veto power in United Nations Favors U. S military alliance with countries of western Europe.

TAFT—Has urged United Nations charter be rewritten with legal teeth in it Wants United Nations to lay down rules of international conduct to be administered by impartial tribunal, with or without Russia

WARREN—Says United Nations "should be put to test of dealing with aggression"

VANDENBERG—Leader of Republican participation in bi-partisan foreign policy . . . pushed bill to finance European Recovery program through Senate ... favors "strong stand for peace which includes justice and honor."

MARTIN—Has said "America must help Europe and the Orient but not as a world WPA unlimited."

TAFT-HARTLEY LABOR ACT

DEWEY—"It's a good law. But I'm sure it has some faults My party will be more ready to repair those defects than the Democrats have been with their labor legislation.

STASSEN—Would amend law to allow union publications to support political candidates, ease restrictions on union shops, and require union officials to sign non-communist affidavits only if they are accused of communism.

TAFT—Says "the country and labor union members themselves are finding that the law is working because it is based on justice and equality while protecting basic right which labor leaders have fought for"

Strike Truce Talks Begin

CHICAGO —(INS)— Negotiations between the Chicago Newspaper Publishers association and local 16 of the Chicago Typographical union were resumed today.

Representatives of both sides met in a day-long session Tuesday in an effort to end the nearly seven month old strike of 1,500 composing room employes of Chicago's daily newspapers.

John F. O'Keefe, secretary of the CNPA, said the session was devoted to discussing terms of the publishers "final contract proposal" to the union.

Woodruff Randolph AFL-International Typographical union president, is expected to meet with the local's job shop committee and the Franklin association, bargaining group for commercial printers, this afternoon.

The job printer member of the local recently rejected a wage increase offer of $9.29 a week. The association has asked them to reconsider.

Asks Parole Revocation

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House expenditures committee recommended Wednesday that paroles of four former members of the "Capone mob" in Chicago be revoked.

The committee said the paroles were "improvidently granted" and should be revoked because of "fraudulent concealment of the facts."

The men named are Louis Campagna, Charles Gioe, Philip D'Andrea and Paul DeLucia, alias Ricca.

They were released on parole Aug. 11, 1947, after having served three and one half years of 10-year sentences for violation of the anti-racketeering laws.

De Lucia, one of the four, was rearrested in Chicago Wednesday for parole violation.

U. S. Attorney Otto Kerner jr., said in Chicago that De Lucia was arrested on a warrant issued by the U. S. board of paroles.

The government charged he failed to make "full and truthful written reports" to the supervisor of paroles and had failed to make a correct report of his expenditures.

Church Backs Merger Plan

PHILADELPHIA —(U.P.)— The Evangelical and Reformed church announced yesterday approval of a merger with the Congregational Christian churches.

The merger was suggested seven years ago by the Congregational group but was not earnestly debated until the past year.

The last synod of the Evangelical church to vote on the question, the Mercersburg synod in Pennsylvania, favored the union with only one dissenting vote, the church said. Nine other synods favored the union by a unanimous vote.

MOTORCYCLIST KILLED

CHILLICOTHE —(AP)— Richard Hettinger, 20, Adelphia, was killed when his motorcycle and a car collided yesterday near Laurelville, 20 miles northeast of here. His brother, Ray Hettinger, 22, Adelpha, was a passenger in the car. The elder Hettinger was unhurt.

Fact that Gromyko will leave next fall seems to have no effect on the inquiring ladies—they still think he's tops as a curiosity. Or could it be sex appeal?

Deep-Sea Quake Felt In Japan

TOKYO—(U.P.)—An earthquake seven miles below the ocean bed off the southeastern tip of Shikoku island rocked a wide area of southwestern Japan. No damage was apparent today.

The temblor was strong enough to stop clocks and upset bottles. A landslide caused by the quake disrupted rail traffic in Wakayama prefecture. Apparently it was not strong enough to demolish any homes.

Lobby Law Indictments Faced By 6

Two State Officials Included In Group

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The Justice department announced today the indictment of two state agricultural commissioners, two farm organizations and two other persons of violating the federal lobbying law.

Indicted were J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture; Tom Linder, Georgia commissioner of agriculture; Robert M. Harriss, senior partner of the New York cotton brokerage firm of Harriss & Vose; and Ralph W. Moore, a commodity trader of Granger, Tex., and Washington.

The two organizations indicted are the National Farm committee, a Texas corporation of which Linder and Moore are president and secretary respectively; and the Farm Commissioners council of Washington, of which Linder and McDonald are the principal officers.

The indictment was returned by a federal grand jury here.

It charged that Linder and McDonald, while appearing to act for the people of their own states, actually acted largely for their own personal financing interests in lobbying for or against certain legislation.

The grand jury charged that each of the individuals and the organizations had unlawfully failed to register as lobbyists.

Burglars Get $1.25 Lighter

A $1.25 cigaret lighter was the total loot of burglars who yesterday broke into the North Side Cigar Store, 258 North Main street, and ransacked the establishment.

Patrolmen Don Freehafer and John Butler reported the burglary at 1:11 a. m. when they found the glass in the front door broken.

At 1 a. m. the two patrolmen accompanied by Capt. Eugene Hartnett, reported that a burglary had been attempted at the North Side Grocery, 534 Springmill street. Although entrance had not been gained, investigation showed that a window was broken on the northwest side of the market and there were pry marks on a rear door.

Paper Route Swells College Fund

Dave Wappner, 17-year-old News-Journal carrier, now attending Ohio's Boys' State at Delaware, hopes that his newspaper route will be the open - sesame for his college education. Accordingly, a good part of each week's earnings goes into a fund he has started for that purpose.

WAPPNER

A member of the Junior class at Mansfield Senior high school, this young newspaper businessman already has $1,500 in his go-to-college fund. Eight hundred dollars of his total college fund Dave has saved from his paper route; the other $700 he laid by from earnings on another job.

Dave is a veteran News-Journal carrier, having started when he was seven years old. At that time he had nine customers. Today, he carries papers to what used to be two routes and his route now includes six miles of the roads around Ohio State Reformatory and Garden Acres.

When he covers the whole route himself, he does it in an hour and a half on his bicycle. He has a helper or two, however, whose work cuts down Dave's own time on the job.

His helpers have become so well trained, in fact, that this year Dave has had time for a little spring football and some softball and baseball activity.

Dave lives at the Reformatory —he is the son of Chaplain and Mrs. Wappner at that institution.

As things stand just now, he's hoping that he'll be enrolled at Wittenberg college in Springfield after he graduates from Mansfield high.

Bobby Feller Loses Fifth Straight, 7 to 4

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

MANY INDIANS fans have already conceded the 1948 American league pennant to Cleveland. . . . However, there is still a long way to go. . . . So don't be premature about sending in requests for world series tickets. . . . The Trible management tells us that all requests and money orders are being returned to the senders. . . . And they probably will not accept any requests until the Indian chances look either quite sure or definite along about the first of September. . . . After all the Indians haven't won a flag since 1920. . . . Advance sales for all of the "big" Indian home games has been terrific. . . . The "big" games are the night, holiday and Sunday affairs especially with the stronger teams. . . . There are always plenty of tickets to go around but they may not be of the choice variety. . . . The answer is, of course, to mail all requests now. . . . There will be 15,000 to 20,000 unreserved seats to go on sale the day of each home game

★

WE HAPPENED into a meeting of the group making plans for the gala 40th anniversary reunion of the Mansfield high school 1908 football team. . . . Naturally the talk was mostly of the olden days of the grid sport and the prowess of the '08 team (it lost only one game) . . . But a couple of the women, Mrs Jim Carrigan and Mrs Tom Scott, probably let the cat out of the bag. . . . They were talking of Earl "Pooch" Pollock, and his gridiron antics. . . . Mrs. Carrigan remembered that "Pooch" was the idol of all the high school girls but he was sure bashful, said Mrs Scott. . . . We got the impression that the '08 girls would have swooned over "Pooch" had Frankie been in vogue in those days.

★

ANYHOW it seemed that the girls got together before one of the games and decided to write a letter to "hero" Pollock. . . . The letter ostensibly from one of the girls (no name was signed) said that she was crazy about "Pooch" and would meet him after the game. . . . She could be identified by a red carnation . . . So after the game, the grid star went looking for the lady of the letter. . . . He found not one but 10 or 12 all decked out in red carnations. . . . Pollock's face gets redder than the carnations when he hears that tale even today.

Tribe Still Holds Three Game Lead

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Cleveland Indians still held their three-game first-place lead today, but the big question was how long they could remain there while Bob Feller continued his losing ways.

The Tribe's erstwhile slump-stopper hasn't won a game since May 19, and absorbed his fifth straight defeat yesterday as the Boston Red Sox pounded out a 7 to 4 win.

Since May 19, Feller has started six times, has been knocked out of the box and defeated on five occasions.

Starting against the Red Sox yesterday for the second time in a week, he gave up two runs in the first inning, another in the third and four in the seventh when Ted Williams and Bobby Doerr slammed homers.

SOUNDS KNELL

Williams virtually sounded the death knell for the "Boudreau shift" by hitting to left field three times. After a first inning single, he twice doubled to left and hit his home run over the left field fence 365 feet from the plate He walked on his other appearance at the platter for a perfect day.

Joe Dobson held the Indians to only three hits in the first seven frames, but tired in the eighth and ninth. He gave up three hits and two runs in the eighth and another run on a single and three walks in the ninth before being relieved by Dave (Boo) Ferriss

Russia Won't Compete In '48 Olympics

LONDON —(UP)— Russia will not participate in the Olympic games this summer

The deadline for entries passed today without a peep from behind the iron curtain

Russia's refusal to compete in the games was no surprise As early as two months ago a Soviet sports official said that his nation had not sufficiently recovered from the ravages of war to go into sports in a big way

But Olympic officials held the door open to the Russians until the last minute Even without Russia, the games July 29-Aug 14 will be the largest in history, with some 6,000 athletes representing 60 nations.

Plymouth Plans Football Team

By CHARLEY STINE

Plymouth High school is going to have its first 11-man football team in history this fall, it was announced today by Coach Bob Lindsey.

In making the announcement, Lindsey revealed that five games have already been scheduled and 25 new uniforms purchased for the team

The uniforms are being paid for by public subscription.

"The people have been wanting football ever since I came here two years ago," Lindsey said. "The school just couldn't afford it, so a group of interested fans took things into their own hands. They bought uniforms balls, and other equipment and now it is up to the boys and me to give them a good team."

CONVERT FIELD

The athletic field to the rear of the high school will be converted into a gridiron. It was used some as an intramural football field last fall and will need only to be surveyed and marked off.

No stands are on the grounds, but it is hoped to procure seats through construction of rental.

Lindsey still has three vacant spots in his planned eight-game schedule, and is contacting area schools in an attempt to fill them. Already on the card are home contest with Norwalk St. Paul's, Sept. 17, and New London Oct. 8. Plymouth will play road games at Huron Sept 24, at Carey Oct. 13, and at Cardington Nov. 12.

Schools desiring games can write Lindsey at 32 Plymouth street, Plymouth, Ohio Open dates are. Oct 1, 22 and 29 and Nov. 5 and 19.

25 NEW SUITS

The 25 new suits are brilliant red jerseys with white numerals, white pants, and black helmets There are only 56 boys in the school but Lindsey hopes to have at least two-thirds of them out for the sport

Lindsey himself will attend Kent State university during the summer to complete work on his master's degree and so will not return until Aug. 30 Since the official opening of practice is scheduled for Aug. 20. Rev. M. P. Paetznick, Plymouth minister, will take charge of the team the first ten days Rev. Paetznick is a former Wittenberg footballer and has had some coaching experience.

Six-man football was tried at the school several years ago, but failed to catch hold because of lack of opposition.

SOMETHING NEW—Desmond Donnenwirth, crack Plymouth basketball and baseball player, tries on something new in the way of athletic uniforms. Plymouth will field its first 11-man grid team next fall and Donnenwirth is the probable quarterback. Looking on is Coach Bob Lindsey and his son, David, age 4½ years. Lindsey has another son, Larry, 4½ years, and he says both will be gridders.—(News-Journal staff photo)

Great Dillard Disqualified In NCAA Track and Field

MINNEAPOLIS—(INS)—The Olympic-year value of the week end's NCAA track and field championships were weakened today by an eligibility ruling which disqualified two defending champions, one of them the great Harrison Dillard.

Dillard, world's record hurdler from Baldwin-Wallace college, was barred from the NCAA tournament yesterday in a ruling issued by Professor Hugh Willett of Southern California, chairman of the national collegiate eligibility committee.

Defending javelin champion Bob Likens of San Jose State also was disqualified.

Since he will not be able to qualify for the Olympic trials by winning the high hurdles in the NCAA, Dillard said yesterday he now definitely will compete in the other "semi-final" meet, the National AAU championships at Milwaukee two weeks hence.

In the meantime, Mel Patton, Southern California's world-busting sprinter, said gloomily he wasn't sure a recent case of cramps has entirely disappeared.

Some coaches on the scene still hold an outside chance for Texas or Minnesota to win the team title. Ohio State, the Western conference champion, lost out on its one-day boom when Lloyd Duff, the decathlon kid, was left home with a pulled foot muscle. He was supposed to win points in the high hurdles, broad jump and pole vault.

Buck Leads Drivers

NEWARK — Buck Barr of Zanesville is top dog on the Jones speedways this summer, at least after the first three race meets Buck has piled up 349 points under the scoring method use by the All-Star Racing Association to take a narrow lead over Hoover of Steubenville, who has 299 points.

Tappan Rips Ideal To Stay Unbeaten

Tappan Stove cut the undefeated list in the Class A Industrial softball league by handing Ideal Electric its first loss last night, 10 to 2.

The Tappan outfit scored in every inning except the second to move up a notch from third place in the league standings. The Stovemen have now won four straight decisions while Ideal has four wins and one defeat.

Jake Lyons had three singles for the winners while Joe Kleer contributed a home run and triple. Dick Kanz limited Ideal to four hits.

Stub Winebrenner pitched and batted the league-leading Farm Tools nine to its fifth straight win. The Toolmen won over Telephone company, 5 to 2, as Winebrenner struck out eight and allowed only three safeties.

He clinched the game with a homer in the fourth with two men on base.

In the other games, Mansfield Plumbing battled Cole's Tool and Dye to a 4-to-4 deadlock in nine innings and Dominion Electric nipped Mansfield Tire, 7 to 6, with a three run burst in the last inning. Don Walker permitted Plumbing only three hits.
